BEHIND—THE—SCENES

When we think of SHS
We usually think of the obvious things—
Bonfires and ballgames, the Junior-Senior prom,
The assemblies, the senior play.

How many of us realize what goes on
Behind the quiet steel and glass frame of SHS
After the 3:40 exodus to the parking lot?
Look around SHS and you can almost always find people
Working, working.
Getting out a last minute Bulldog Herald,
Decorating the goal posts,
Teetering on ladders as they hang streamers
To dress up the field house for a Friday night dance.

As day gives way to night, and sometimes
Until night gives way to morning,
Day in, day out,
Year in, year out,
Behind the scenes,
Someone is working.

We will carry the memories of the obvious
Symbols of SHS with us as we leave its halls for the last time,
But few of us will remember who put together these memories.

This year the Bulldog staff
Wishes to dedicate the yearbook
To these people who have worked and played
"Behind the Scenes" to build the school spirit
And public image of Springdale High School.

ADMINISTRATION AND CLASSES

Administrative Office Important to SHS

TO THE SENIORS OF 1964:

We live in a world of rapid change with the threat of communism ever present to endanger our form of government and the American way of life. May I urge you to study and develop a strong set of principles to guide your actions in the future.

In this space age we all feel a little insecure. However, our educational and religious institutions can do much to help us overcome this insecure feeling. You should always avail yourselves of the knowledge and understanding these institutions have to offer.

Education is a must now as never before. Competition is keen for every available job. Be prepared, continue your education, and be able to meet the challenge when an opportunity presents itself.

Sometime in the future do some reminiscing. Glance through your yearbook. In my opinion, you will say to yourself, "Those were the happiest days of my life."

Thurman G. Smith
Superintendent of Schools

Superintendent of schools, Thurman Smith, invites all to the administrative offices of S.H.S.

Mrs. Martha Berry, secretary to the superintendent, seems always to be checking balances and debits.

Assistant superintendent, Mr. Joe Roberts, is a busy man as he is purchasing agent for the school system as well as being responsible for transportation.

Mrs. Betty Hinds instructs newest addition to the office, Mrs. Sharon Upshaw.

BOARD OF EDUCATION—BIG MEN ON CAMPUS

Mr. John Gorman explains the terms T. J. Rainey and Son Investment Company will offer for $1,779,200 worth of school bonds as other bonding representatives and board members listen.

The Board Guides District Through a Successful Year

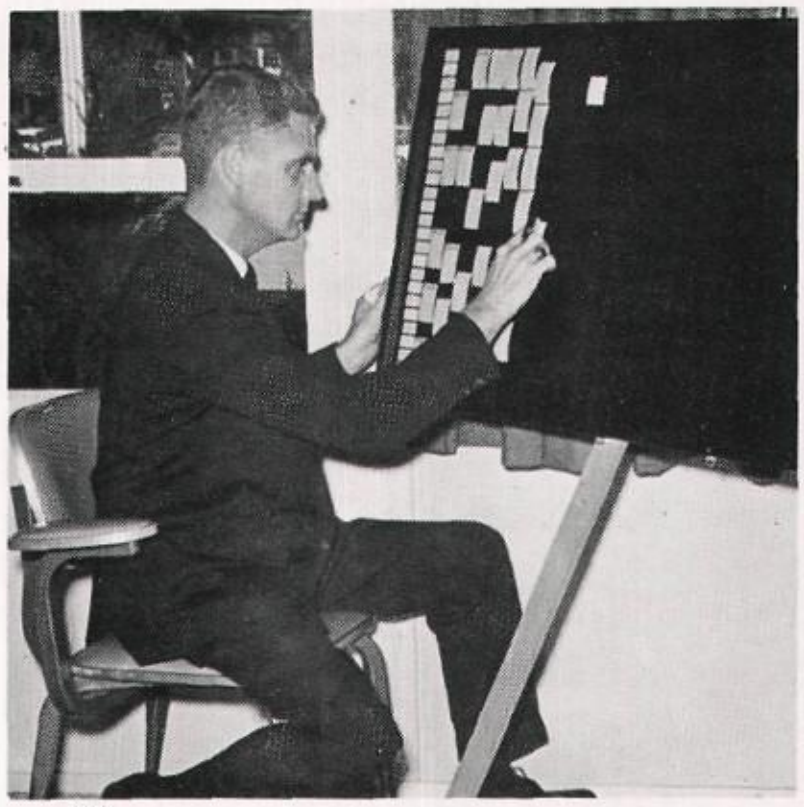
Working together to establish and regulate the policies of a rapidly enlarging school system, the Board of Education efficiently attends to the needs and problems of each school. Their hands are full at the monthly meetings and in-between-times as they are faced with the constant task of providing more classrooms and more teachers.

The Board of Education can look back on another very busy and very successful school year. The high scholastic ratings of all the Springdale schools show that continued efforts from these men have been responsible for giving every student an excellent education.

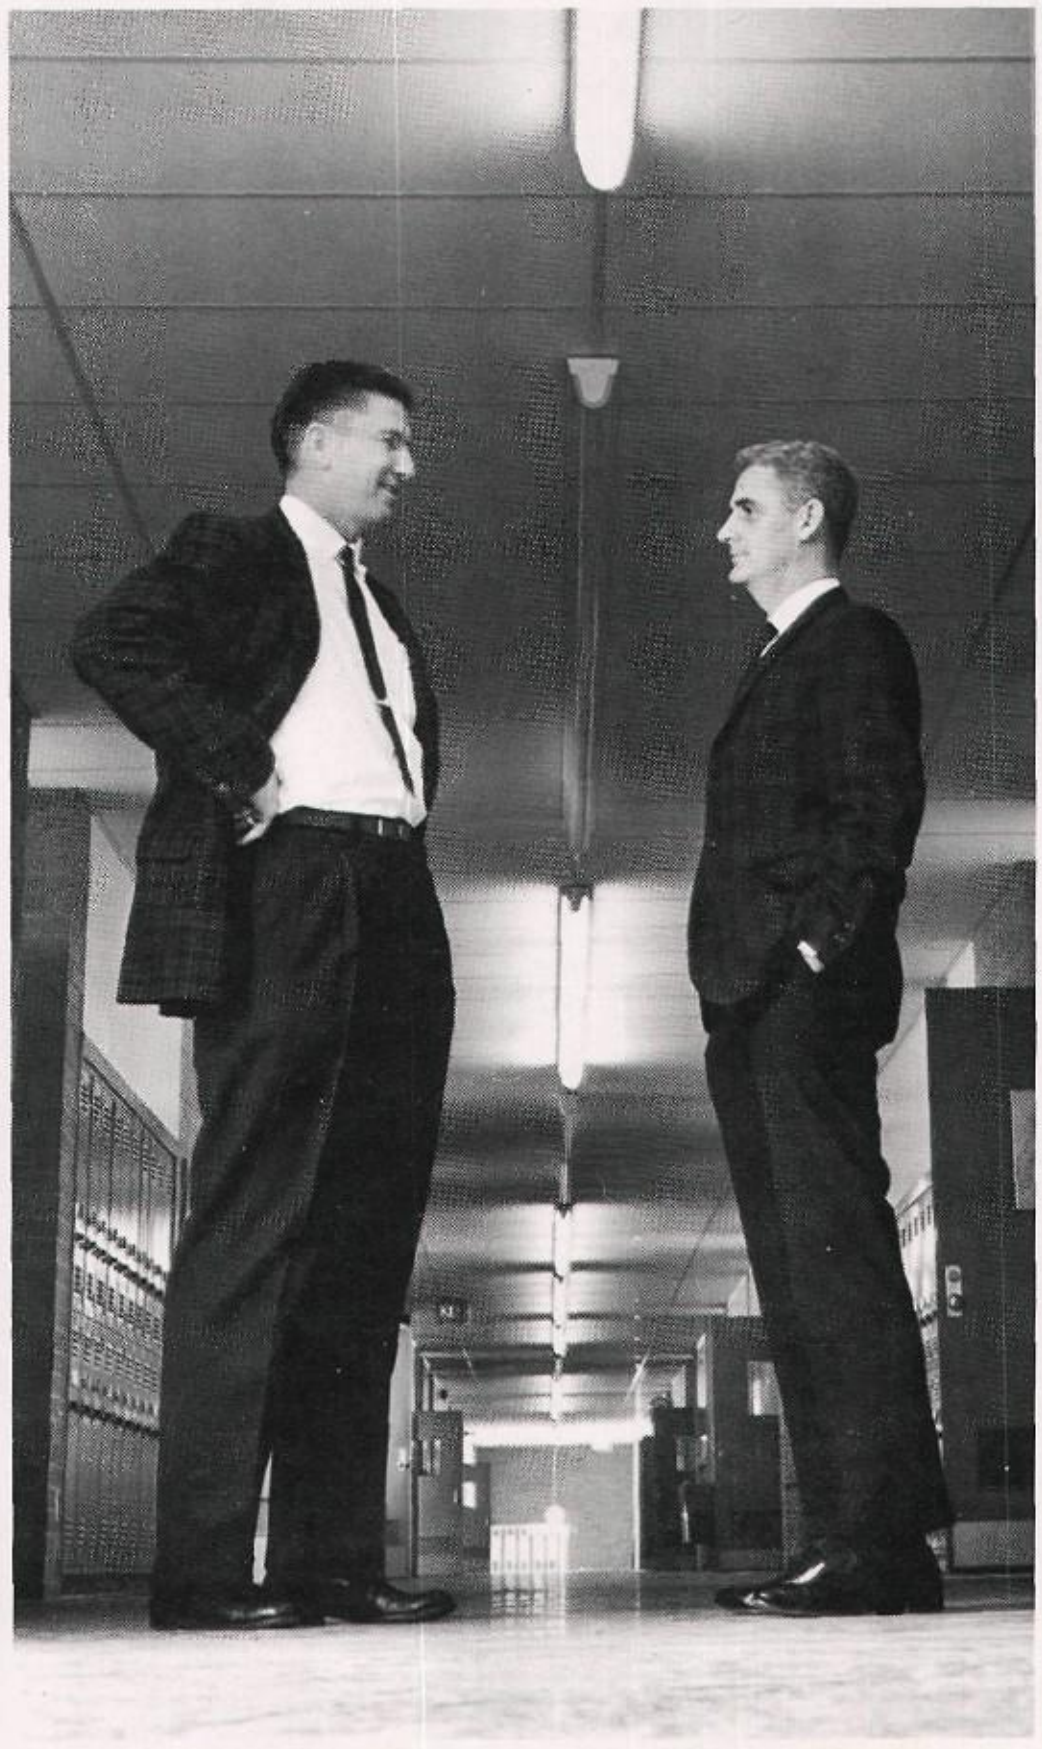
Principal and Vice–Principal Are Producers Behind the Scenes

Mr. Fritz Ehren begins a busy day by unlocking the doors of S.H.S.

Vice-Principal Norman Crowder must start scheduling classes a year ahead.



Big bosses discuss weighty problems.



Busy People—Busy Places

Keep a Busy School Running

Mrs. Ila Newburn files books in her fine library.

One of the many responsibilities of Registrar, Mrs. Marcella Phillips, is putting mail in the teachers' pigeon holes.

While enjoying a cup of coffee, Mrs. Ginger Leslie, counselor, takes time out of her busy day to visit with the students.

Relaxing in the vault is Mrs. Zinnetta Brooks, checking nine week's tests.

SHS Faculty Diligently Endow Their Students with Knowledge

Mrs. Elizabeth Torian explains sentence structure to one of her English II classes.

Mrs. Linda Kesterson shouldn't have time to goof around with her English III and IV classes.

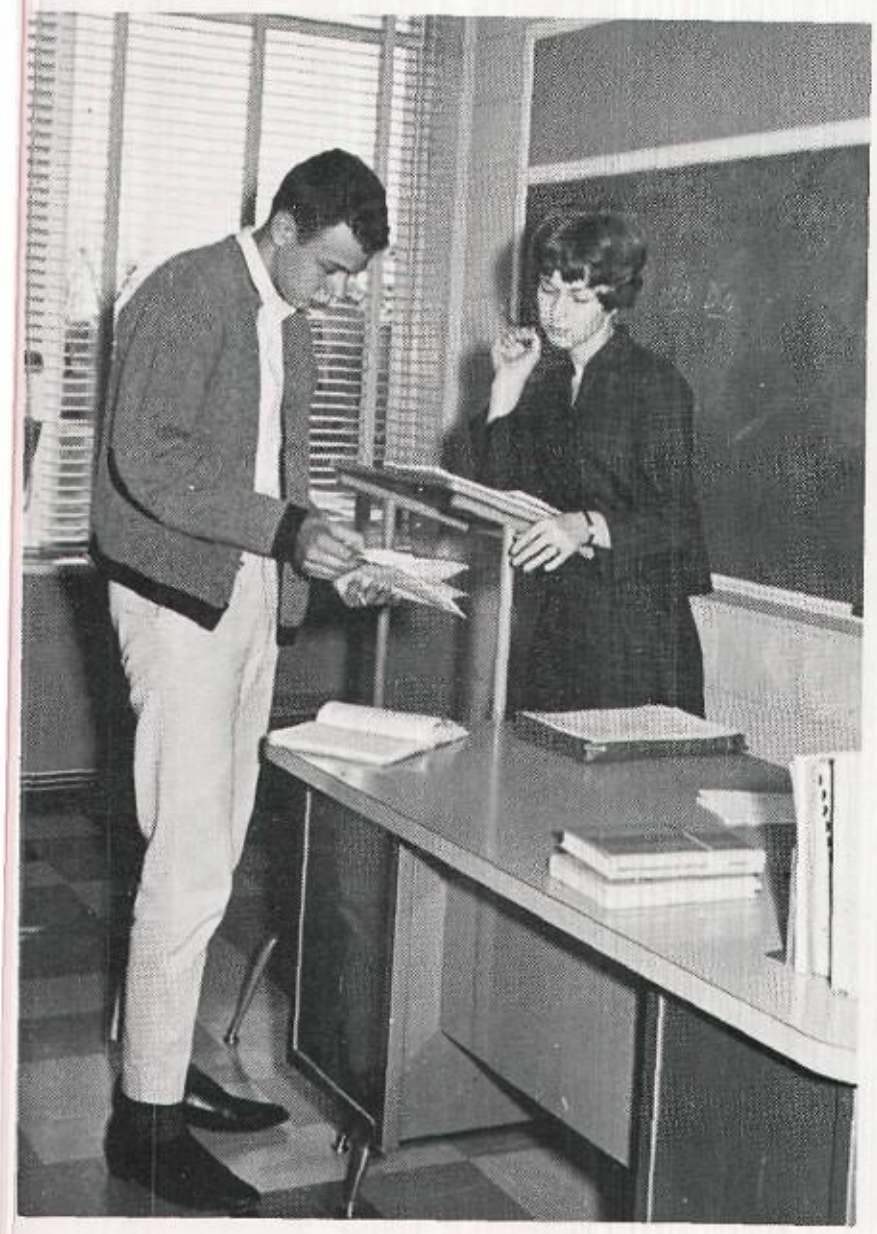
"Writing Good Sentences" is rarely a laughing matter with Mrs. Pat Warde and her English IV classes.

English Improves Reading, Communication

Mrs. Marie Benson checks over the stories of Journalism I and II. She also teaches English II and Remedial Reading.

Mrs. Betty Hawn explains the mechanics of writing term papers to her English III students.

Mrs. Jodie Mohr, English II teacher, helps Doug Dodd with his homework.



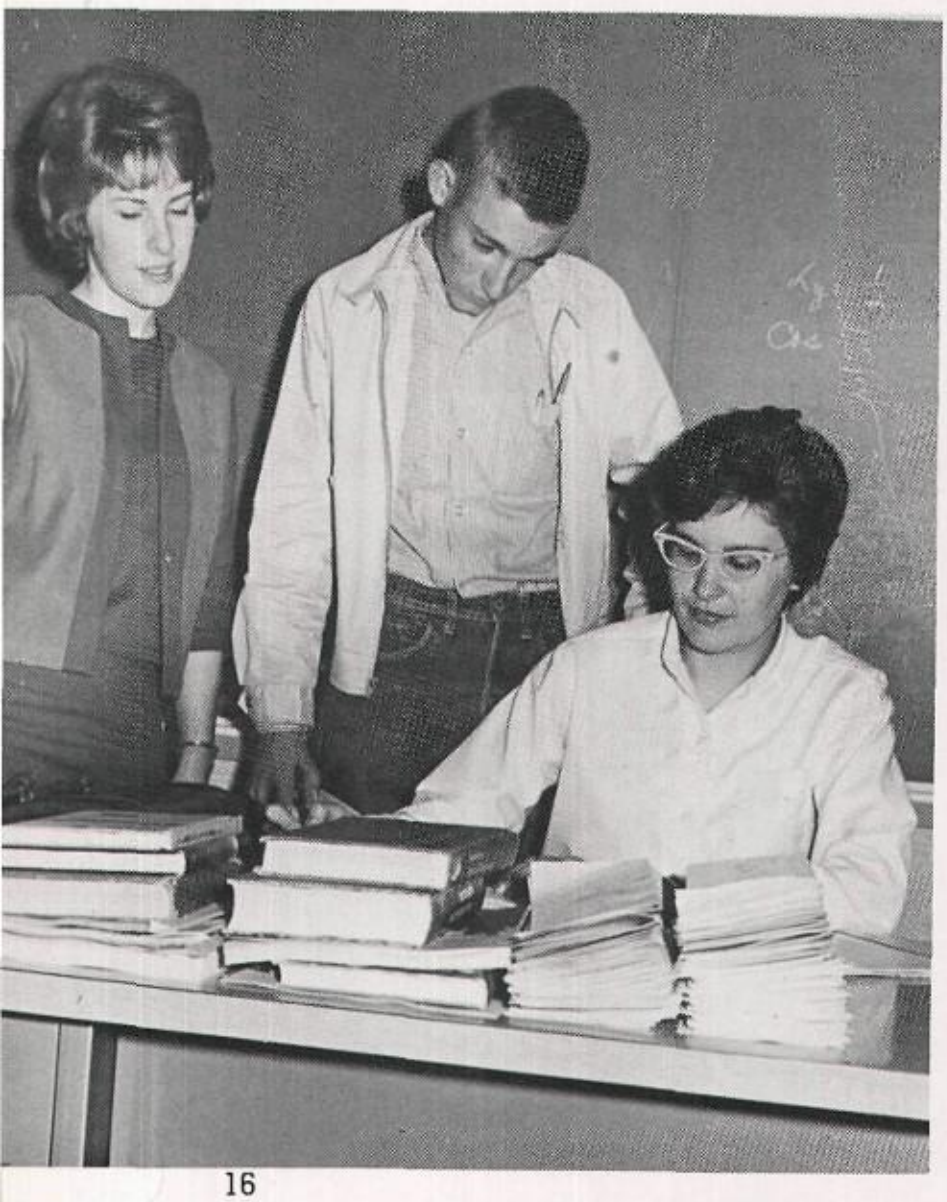
Mrs. Carolyn Cuthbertson plays lesson tapes for one of her Spanish classes.

Teachers Broaden Horizons Through Science

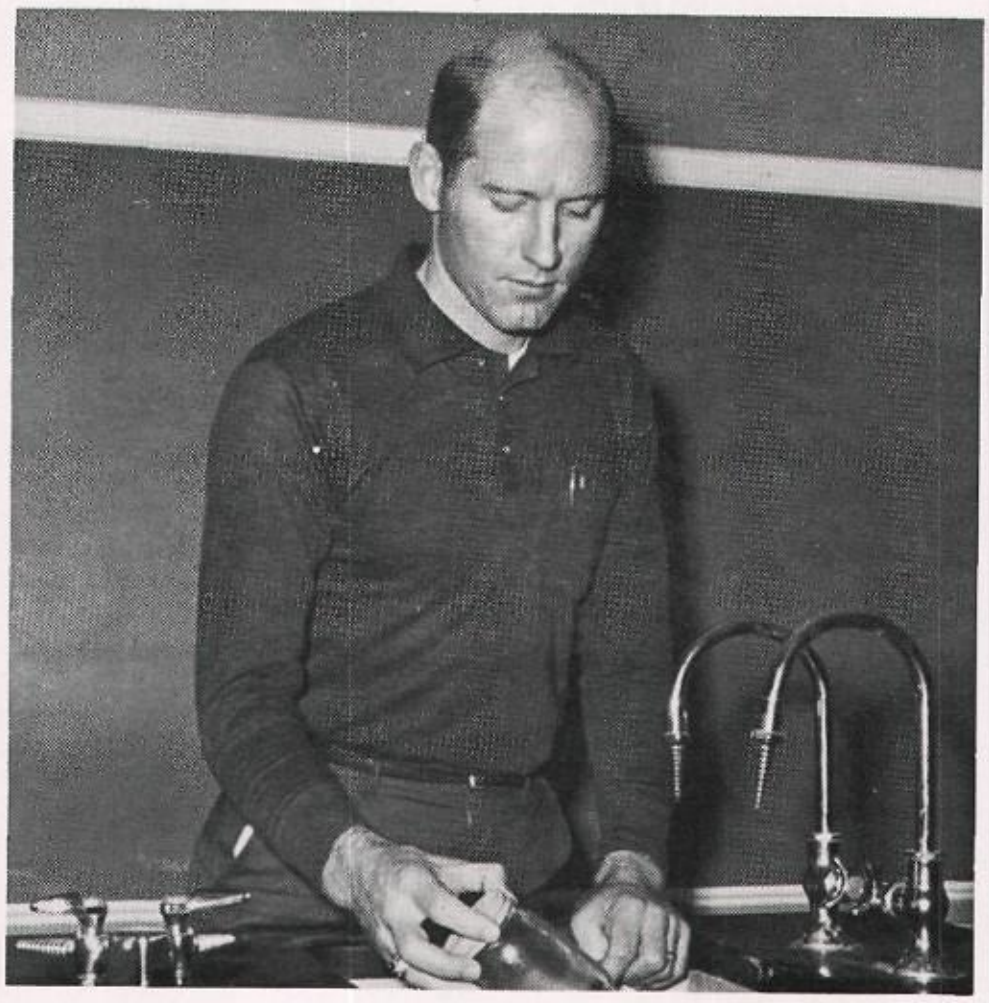
Mrs. Gertrude Johnston listens to her biology students recite.

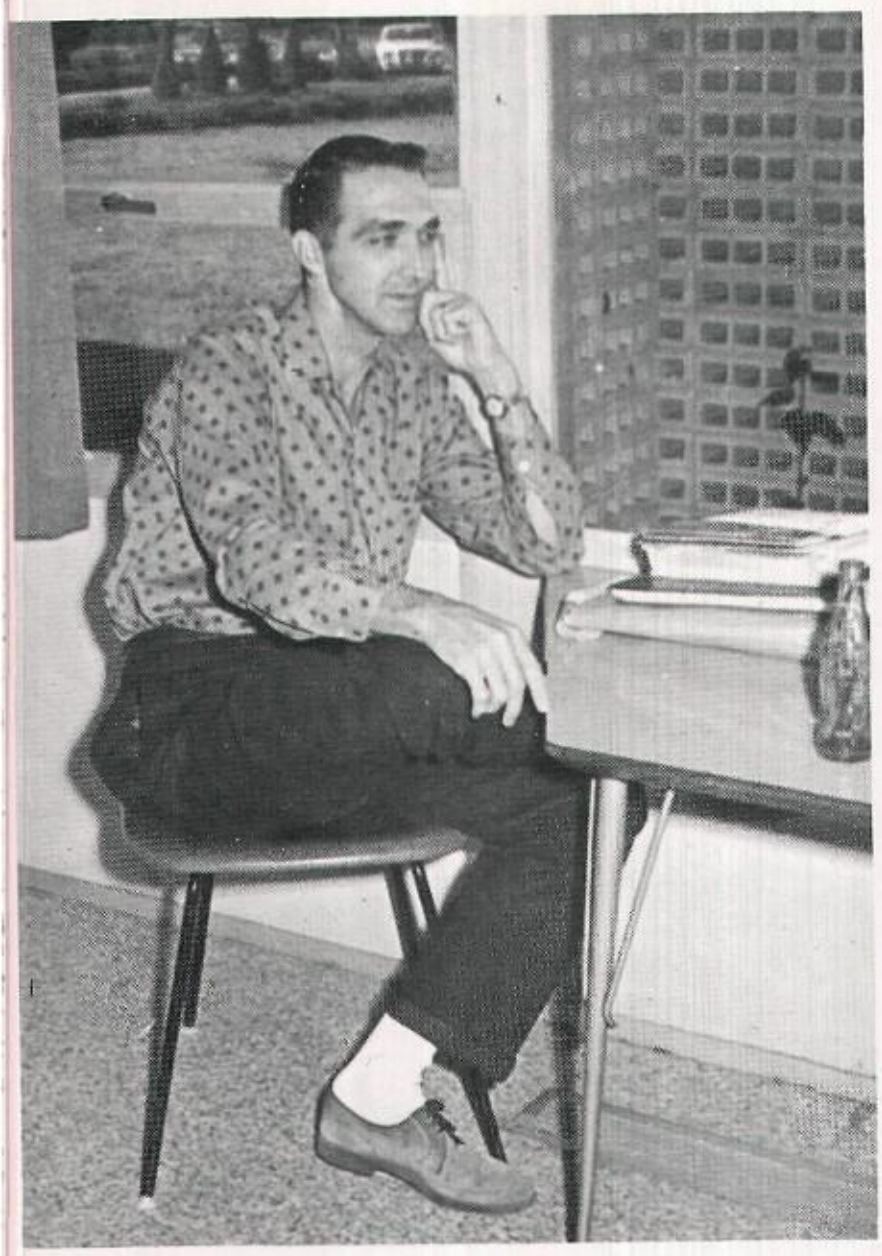
Mr. Ron Coiner sets up an experiment for his chemistry classes. How can he find time for physics and advanced biology too?

Mrs. Linda Maune has a busy day trying to find time to help her students in algebra II, senior advanced math, and business math.



Mr. Billy Boyd has something new to show his biology classes. He also has classes in plane geometry and general math II.





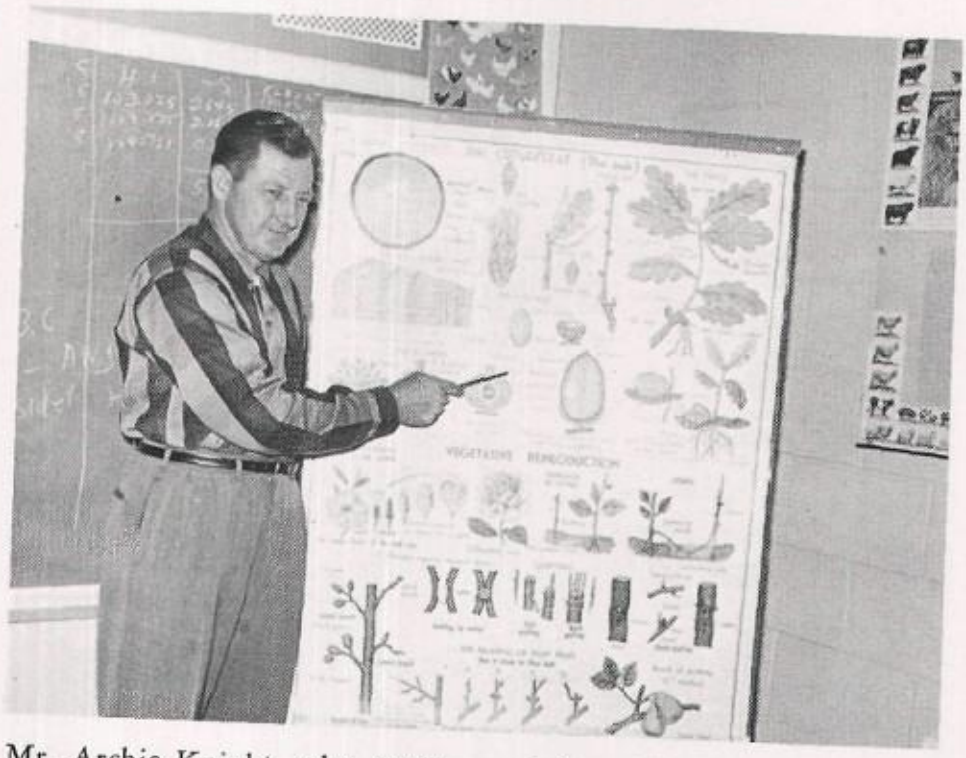
Mr. Gerald Sanders relaxes in the lounge after a hard day of teaching plane geometry and coaching basketball.

Mrs. Sally Hallum tells a sad story of her troubles in home economics I and II.

"You must use safe suds," explains Mrs. Evelyn Oates to her home economics II and III students.

Mrs. Mary Hodge explains, "This is the square below the square above." She teaches integrated geometry, general math II, and algebra I.

Social Science Teachers Open New Worlds

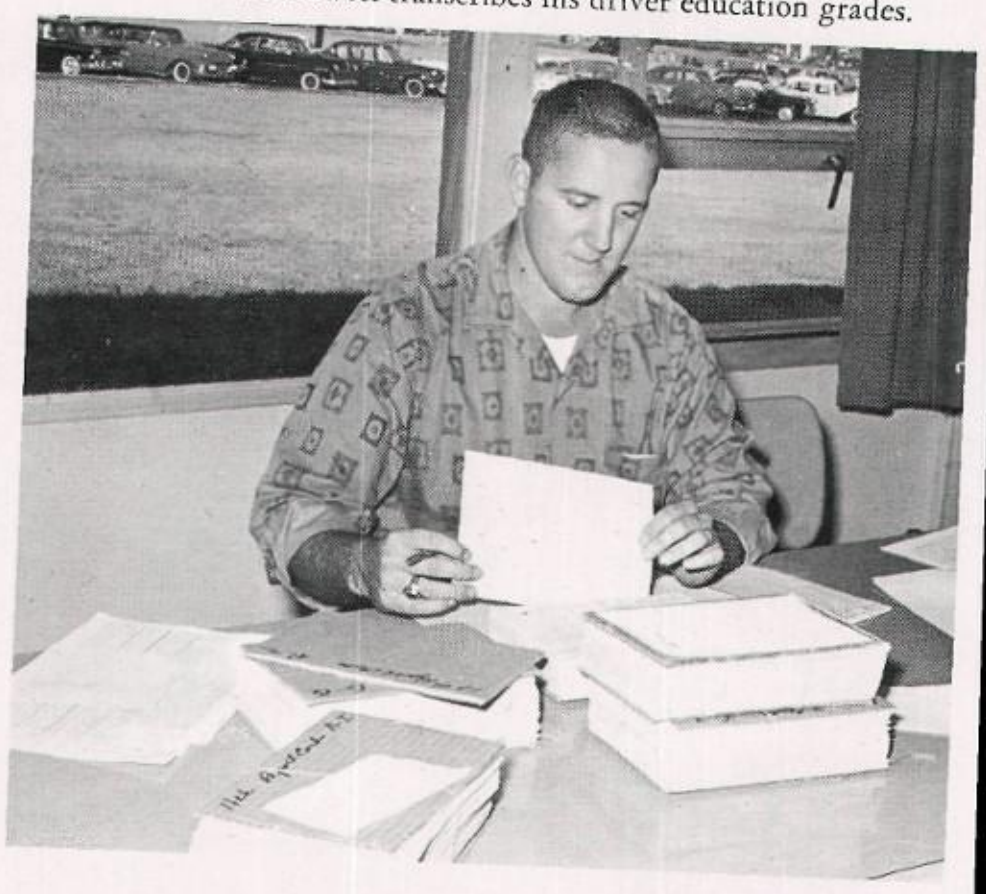


Mr. Archie Knight, who teaches agriculture II, III and IV, lectures to his boys.

Mr. Harold Brown often jokes with his world history and American history classes.

Mr. Bill Crowder takes a break from teaching health, American government, and helping coach football.

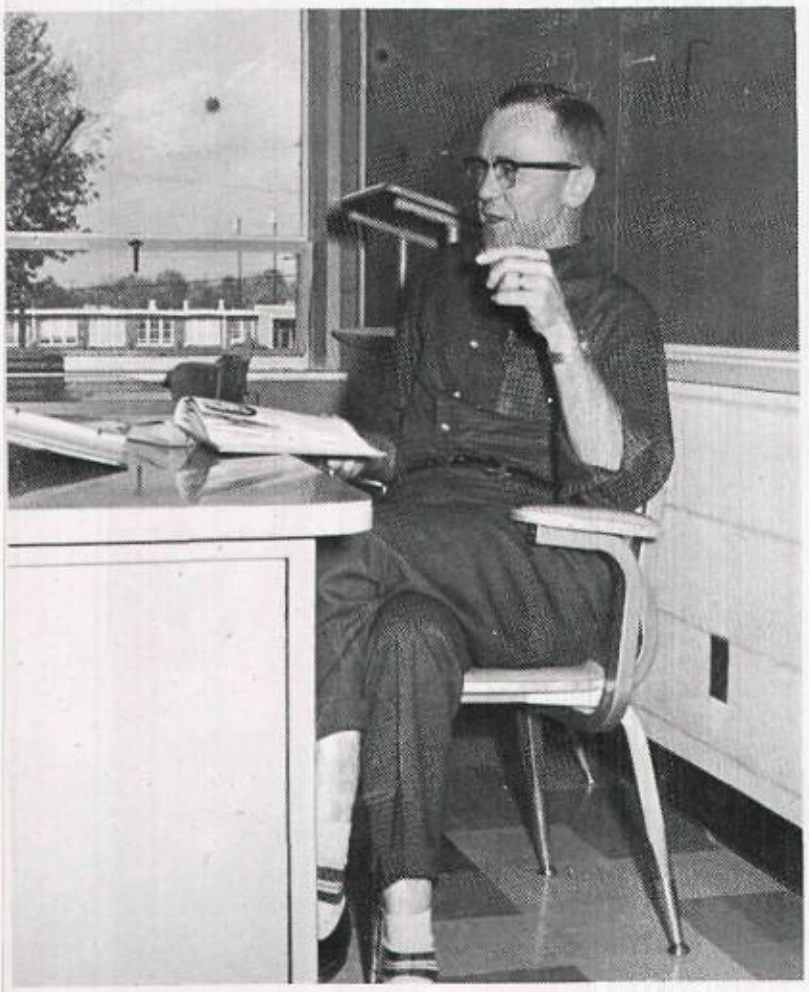
Coach Louis Dewett transcribes his driver education grades.



Mrs. Lula Mae Watson points out foreign lands to world geography or world history students.

Is Mr. James Jackson playing fun records or study records for his American history students?

Mr. Dean Sharp reviews for tests in economics and sociology classes.



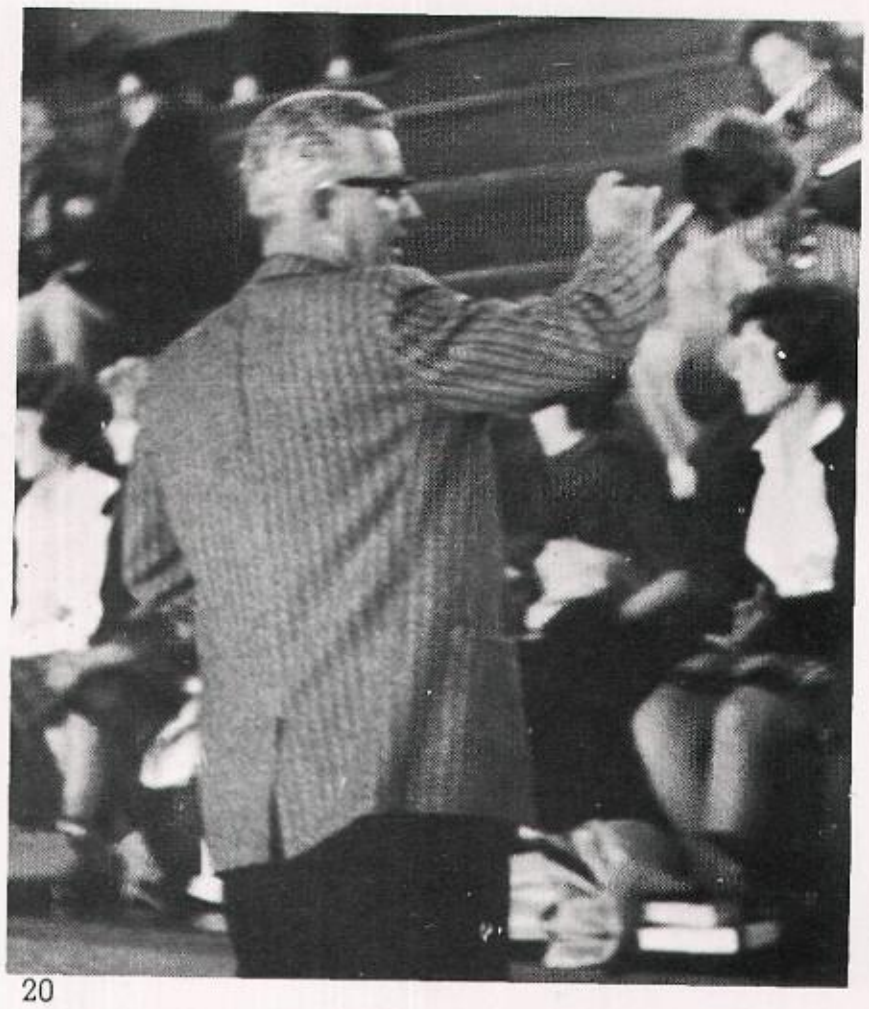
Mrs. Floy Ray questions her world history students.

Teachers Lay Forth the Solid Foundation on which SHS Scholars Construct their Futures

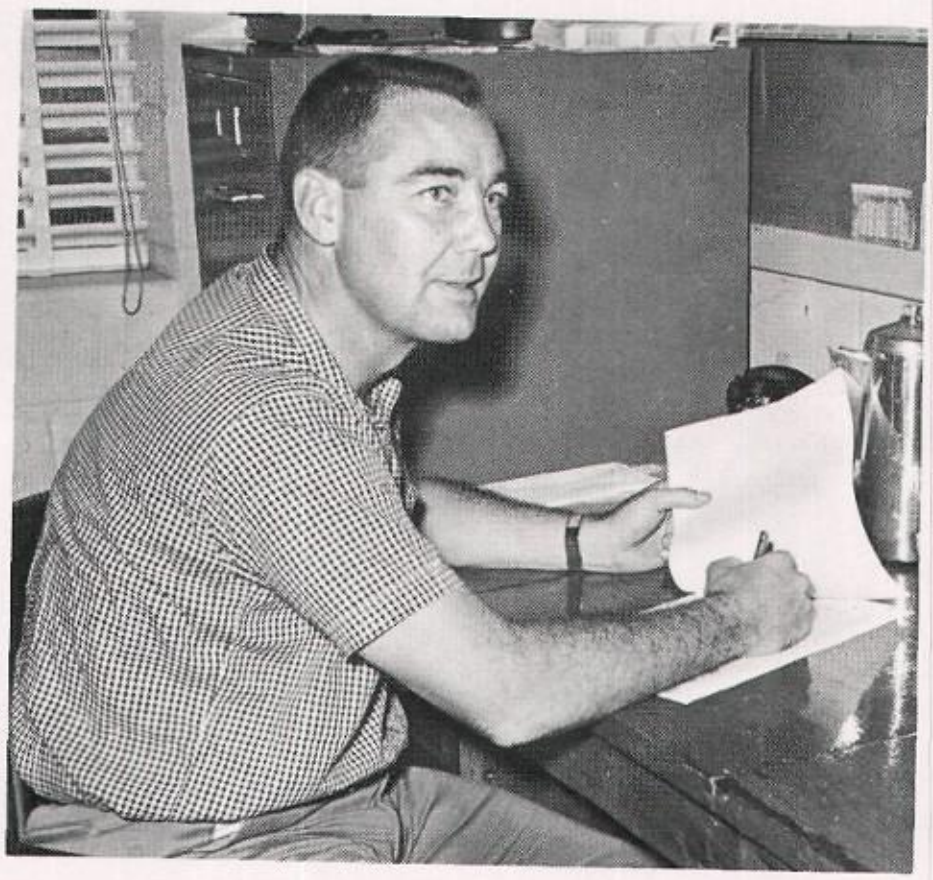
Mrs. Arlene De Vries counts the rhythm for her vocal music students.

Mr. Paul Shaffer teaches drama I, II, and techniques of speechmaking.

Enthusiasm at pep rallies is sparked by the S.H.S. band led by Mr. William Hendricks, who also teaches music theory.



Coach Rex Yerby somehow manages to keep track of everyone in boys physical education and football. He is S.H.S.'s athletic director.



Mrs. Jo C. Reed makes the assignment for tomorrow. She teaches general business and business math.

Mr. Harry Wilson shows industrial arts student Rod Fanning how to use a lathe.

Miss Zoe Ann Durden helps Donna Knick with her homework. Miss Durden teaches bookkeeping, shorthand, and typing I.

Mrs. Glynna Helstern makes her typing I and II students keep their eyes on the copy instead of the keys.

Seniors Enter Final Year at S.H.S.

Senior Class President, Emil Kilpatrick pins the first senior pin sold as a class project, on Clydia Carnes as Janie McMillan and Charlotte Smith supervise the job.

As we leave these halls for the last time, we pause and take a thoughtful backward glance at the things that are now only memories:

Our sophomore year in a shiny new building when we were the target of warning looks from faculty and staff that said "Keep your little hands off the walls, the windows, the ceiling . . ."

The vaguely sad-sweet smell of the autumn nights when we cheered and cheered in the light-flooded stands—WHO ARE THE BULLDOGS? WE ARE THE BULLDOGS. WHAT KIND OF BULLDOGS? FIGHTING BULLDOGS.

The lunch room strike; the protest for short skirts.

The happiness at good times, tears at low grades, and tired looks on Friday.

Tournament week—sprayed hair, baggy eyes, and sleepless nights of slumber parties.

The traditional privileges, and ceremonies of our Senior year and finally, before we realized it—graduation—final instructions, final rewards, and final goodbyes—the end and the beginning.

And now we look to the future with a small part of the elusive reward of education —not just facts, but ideas and ideals, and perhaps for some of us a little wisdom.

Juniors Begin Busy Year of Planning

nior president, Charles Lawson, begins back-breaking job of decorating r the Junior-Senior banquet assisted by Charles Smith and Karen hillips.

WE'RE THE BEST THERE IS ALIVE! WE'RE THE CLASS OF '65! With the cry of our class yell, the juniors began another year at SHS. Although the newness of being in senior high was gone, the thrill was still with us as we gained habits which were, only a year ago, new experiences in a strange school.

Our new money-making project this year was a fruitcake sale, sponsored by the Civitan Club. Members of the Junior class donated their time in a house-to-house drive, a radio program, and in opening a stand downtown. Other projects were the operating of the concession stand and the editing of a literary magazine, the Belles Lettres. A product of much hard work and planning, the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, was a great success.

The grand finale to our junior year came as we watched the senior graduation ceremonies and began to anticipate our last year in high school when we will finally be seniors.

Sophomores Become Citizens of SHS

Sophomores David Evans, Carol Camfield, Janet Piebenga, and Cathy George are initiated in the all-important task of operating the school book store.

Perhaps there is no year as exciting, as full of expectations, as our sophomore year.

We arrived, 332 strong, into a school much different than the school we had left behind. At last, we were in on things we had wistfully watched older sisters and brothers do in the past.

It was a year of ball games with added meaning, dances, extra midnight oil-burning, a year of Julius Caesar, formaldehyde, and, for the girls, at least one crush on a Senior boy. But above all, it was a year in which we learned to be good Bulldogs and to do the tasks that will be required of us as Juniors.

Student Life and Organizations

Boy and Girl Staters Learn Political Maneuvers

A part of the American Legion's Americanism program is the belief that the boys and girls in our schools should be fully aware of the heritage of this nation. Each year there is held in Little Rock, under the aegis of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, a workshop in the business of government.

It is a well-planned and well-organized course to teach the youth of Arkansas not only something about our heritage, but how to apply that knowledge to everyday workings of our government.

In order to do this, those who attend Boys and Girls State are divided into two mythical groups; they elect officers from the township on up to and including state offices. Nominations and elections are held in strict accordance with the Statutes of Arkansas.

Junior boys and girls who attend Boys and Girls State are selected by their high school faculty and staff in conjunction with the American Legion and the American Legion Post in that city. Only boys and girls of outstanding qualities are capable of being declared eligible for this one week's encampment.

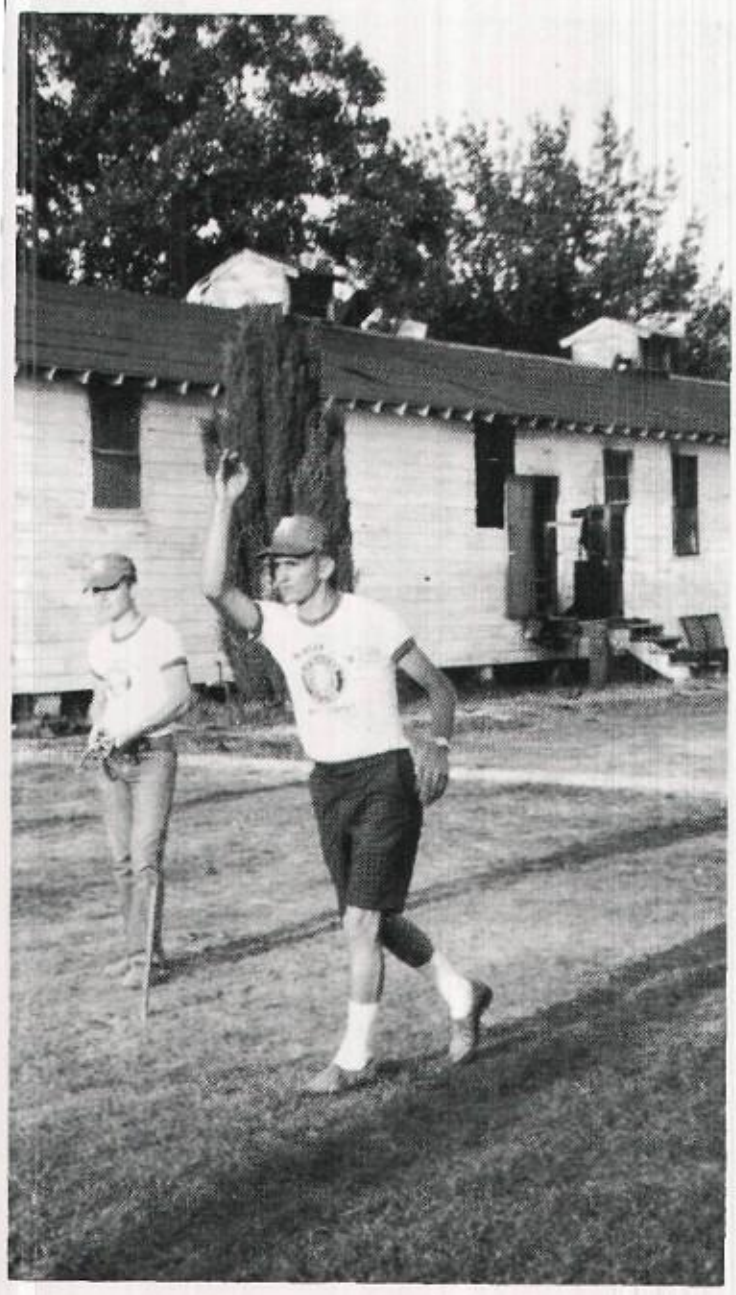
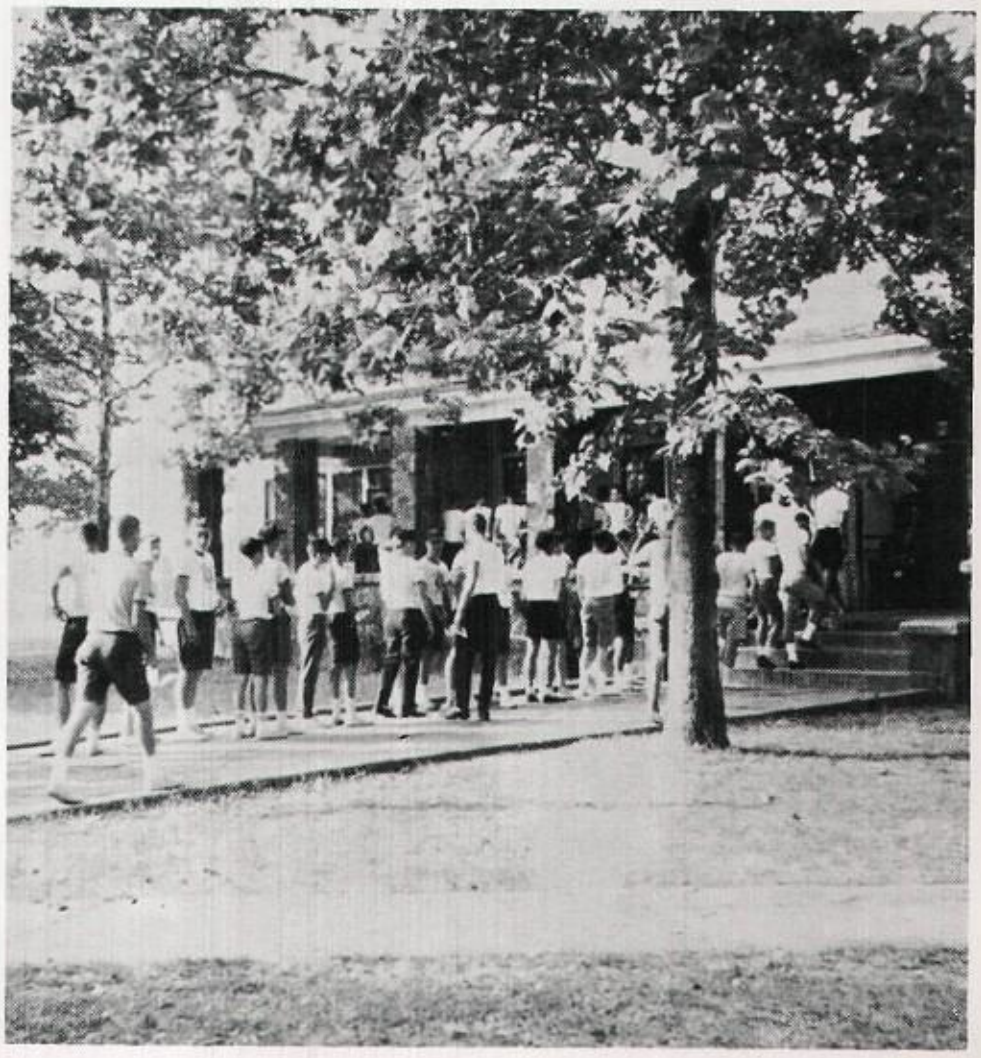
Where did these Boy Staters find time to pitch horseshoes?



The lunch line at Boy's State is a hot, crowded place, even in the shade.

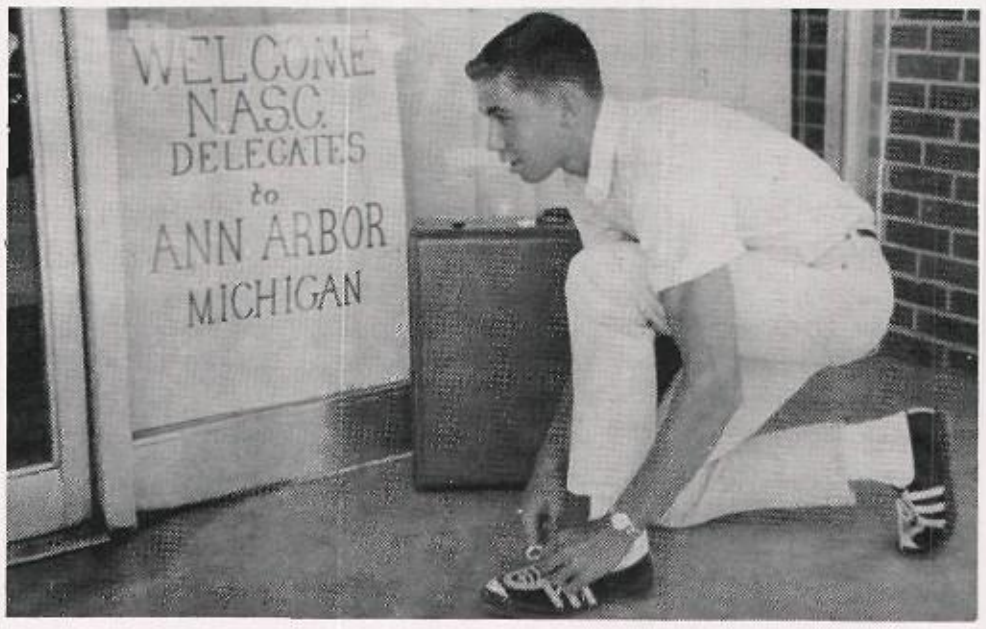


Summer Activities Include Workshops in Conway and Michigan

Mr. Crowder and Bill Coker take a break from a busy schedule at Conway while Jo Anne Applegate works on.

Each summer, members of the annual staff spend a week at the Yearbook Workshop in Conway. Here, staffs from many Arkansas high schools meet for lectures by a yearly guest speaker. After the lecture each staff meets for a session of planning their yearbook for the coming school year.

Another summer activity was the state meeting of Student Councils at Conway which Dennis Shaw, Student council president, and Donnie Gibson, vice president, attended. Dennis also attended the National Association of Student Councils convention at Ann Arbor, Michigan.



Dennis Shaw was our S.H.S. representative to the Student Council meeting at Ann Arbor this summer.

Ann Lichlyter and Mr. Crowder listen to the master, C. J. Medlin, at the workshop.

Richard Rutledge, Bill Coker, Karen Phillips, Betty Sbanotto and Melinda Simpson work hard on the 1964 yearbook at Conway.

Rodeo and Western Day Provide Outlet for SHS Activities

One of the "first-time" activities this year was Western Day. Students were encouraged to wear western outfits and to participate in the afternoon activities which included sack races, a pie eating contest, and a tug-of-war between classes.

Western day was followed by the Junior Rodeo on Saturday in which students competed in various contests.

Barbara McCamey and Kay Tankersley prove to be champion sack-racers at the Western Day activities.

This isn't a free for all, but a race for a greased pig during Western Day.

Mt. Magazine Provides Opportunity for Planning Year's Activities

Having a successful school year takes a great deal of planning. Every summer the student council sponsors a three day session at Mount Magazine to plan programs and goals for the coming school year.

The students attending the workshop are members of the student council and the officers and program chairmen of other school organizations.

The trip is business mixed with pleasure. Students and teachers alike enjoy the scenic beauty of Mt. Magazine, the evening entertainment, and the fun of just being together again for three busy days.

Mr. Knight and Mr. Brown seem to doubt whether or not Coach Sanders is going to get the projector screen in that suitcase.

Charlotte Smith and Mark White must be wondering what to do next, while they wait for the bus to leave.

We agree that getting in the lunch line is something to be proud of, but isn't James Dodson overdoing it just a little.

Annual Party and Registration Bring Summer Activities to a Clo

Even during the summer months there are student activities at S.H.S. For the first time this year, due to summer delivery of the BULLDOG, the student body met in August for an annual signing party.

Another summer activity was registration. Students registered in early August in order that each could receive individual counseling concerning the academic program they wished to pursue.

Richard Rutledge tends to the task of distributing annuals at the yearbook party with the "help" of Mike Crouch.

"After all, Mr. Ehren," insists Mrs. Phillips, "no one is perfect!"

Jacque Skelton wasn't the only one who had trouble getting the annual covers to fit correctly.

Registration seems a serious business for counselor Ginger Leslie, but looks like fun for Ann Lichlyter.

Howdy Week
Encourages Friendliness and Fun

Every year the first week of school is designated by the Student Council as "Howdy Week." The purpose of this week is to welcome new students and boost school spirit. The week is climaxed by "Fun Night" where students dance, play games, and enjoy getting back into the swing of things.

Mrs. Warde, Mrs. Kesterson, and Charlotte Smith are part of the eager mass which arrived early the first day of school.

Office helpers such as Jimmie Lou Burr prove to be a big help especially during the frantic rush of "Howdy Week."

Carol Lynn Camfield and Jo Anne Applegate make good use of their time while waiting to purchase books at the bookstore.

Gary Parvin is one of the lucky sophomores who learned quickly to crowd in the lunch line without getting caught.

Homecoming Climaxes Exciting Week

Co-Captain, Dub Ray, crowns Queen Amelia during half-time ceremonies as Emil Kilpatrick supervises.

In elections as secret as their best plays, the football team elects their homecoming queen and nominates the maid candidates who are in turn elected by the student body. The queen and her court reign in full ceremony at the Homecoming assembly, the game, and the dance following the game.

Dub Ray beams at Mrs. Leslie as she fixes his carnation. Dennis Shaw waits his turn.

Maids, Jo Anne Applegate, Dorothy Letsch, and Deana Hyland, prepare for the traditional ride down Emma Avenue in the Homecoming parade.

Seniors Win Yearbook Contest

In order to promote the sale of yearbooks, the class which buys the highest percentage of annuals has the honor of naming the king and queen of the book.

This year's contest was won by the Senior Class, with an 84% of the class purchasing yearbooks. In second place was the Junior Class with 60% while the Sophomore Class finished third with 48%.

Peter and Anne make plans for a future that will be safe from the terrors of war.

Student director Margaret Fitch consults Mr. Shaffer, director, about the script.

The two-act play, The Diary of Anne Frank, dramatized by Francis Goodrich and Albert Hackett, is based on the book Anne Frank: Diary of a Young Girl. The setting is Amsterdam during World War II.

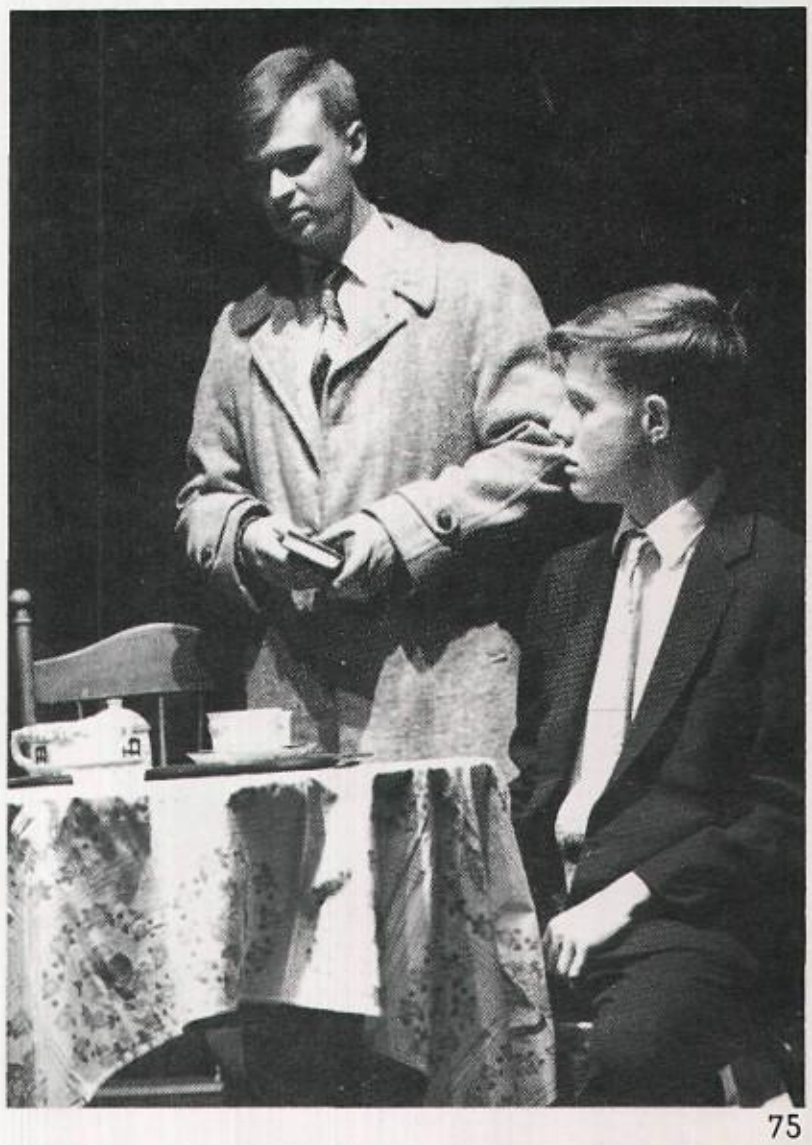
It is the story of two Jewish families, the Franks and the Van Daans, brought together by the war to hide from the Nazi Regime. The families take refuge in the attic of an old office building. Their only contacts with the outside world are a Dutch businessman, Mr. Kraler, and his secretary, Miep, who bring them food and other necessities. The families are joined by a Jewish dentist who makes the already crowded attic still more uncomfortable.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" is a chronicle of romance between Anne Frank and Peter Van Daan, of clashing tempers caused by the difficulties of hiding, and of the soul-searchings of the families for the values, truth, and faith in the future and in mankind.

Miep comes with the good news that the invasion has begun.

Mrs. Frank pours Mr. Van Daan a cup of wine for a New Year's toast.

Mr. Frank reminisces about the two years of refuge in the warehouse attic.



"Molasses and olives for breakfast!" shouts upset Herbert Gage to wife Marge. Daughters, Sarah and Paula, appear to be more worried about the cold.

The Joyous family—Jonathan, Mathilda, and Matt—listen as Uncle Walter relays the town gossip.

January Thaw

January Thaw, a play by William Roos based on the novel by Bellamy Partridge, is the story of an old farmhouse and the two families who fight to possess it. Herbert Gage and his family unsuspectingly buy the Rockwood farm presuming the Rockwoods to be dead. However, the Rockwoods, their son Matt, and a multitude of problems return. The circumstances become hilariously complicated when the contest for possession begins.

When Barbara's boy friend doesn't appear, she and Matt go out on an errand of mercy just as a blizzard begins. The two families become isolated and the Gages fight a hard battle for independence from the Rockwoods.

Everyone but Herbert finally deserts the cause for Mrs. Rockwood's biscuits and ham. All seems lost when Barbara explains everything to George. Herbert finally overcomes his pride and joins the rest of the family in the Rockwoods' kitchen. The problem is happily solved when Marge Gage decides that she wants to move into the Rockwoods' barn. "After all," she explains, "It is the oldest building in Connecticut!"

"Really!" insists student director, Semone Newman, to Mr. Paul Shaffer. "I think I'm capable of pulling the curtains."

Carson and Sarah don't seem as surprised as George to find that Barbara hasn't eloped with Matt.

"I'll not work in this house with him here," cries Frieda as Jonathan Rockwood informs her that Matt has become a member of the Gage household.

As its major financial project, the yearbook staff sponsors a Miss SHS pageant each year. This year's general chairman was Mrs. Dallas Walker who was assisted in the production by member of the local ESA sorority. The pageant has grown in popularity each year and this year's show was in many ways the most successful.

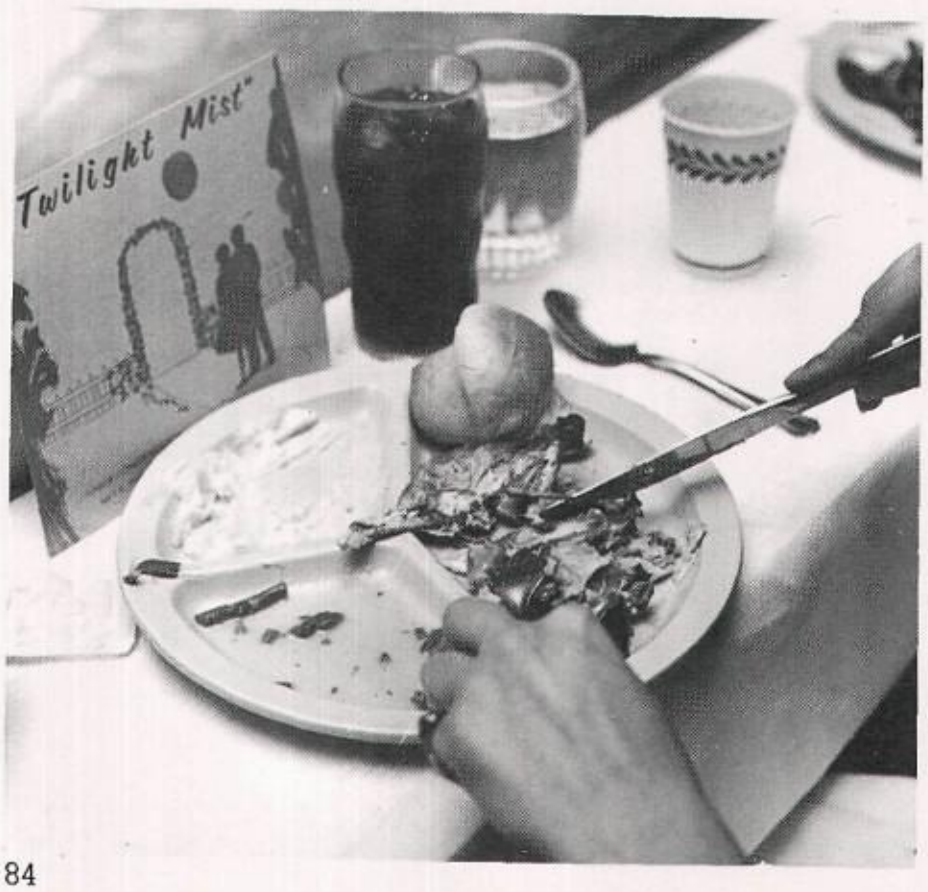
Banquet and Prom Are Highlights of Seniors' Year

"Twilight Mist" was the theme of the '63-'64 Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. It was planned and presented by the members of the Junior Class giving them an opportunity to bid farewell to their upperclassmen. The speaker was Dr. Mary Harbage and the entertainment was provided by Karen Lankford.



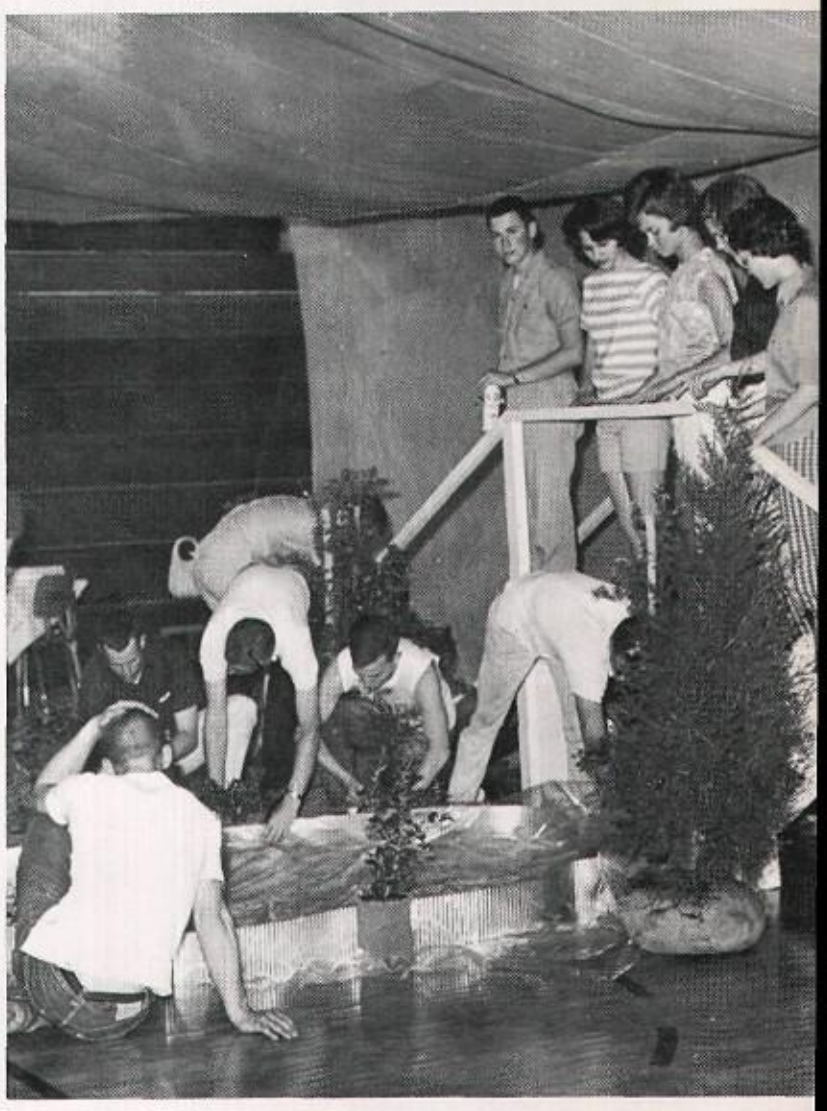
"Hail to the great shutter-bug. Send me two wallet size and one portrait."

Man, I'm full!!

Tired people with aching feet recuperate during the intermission.

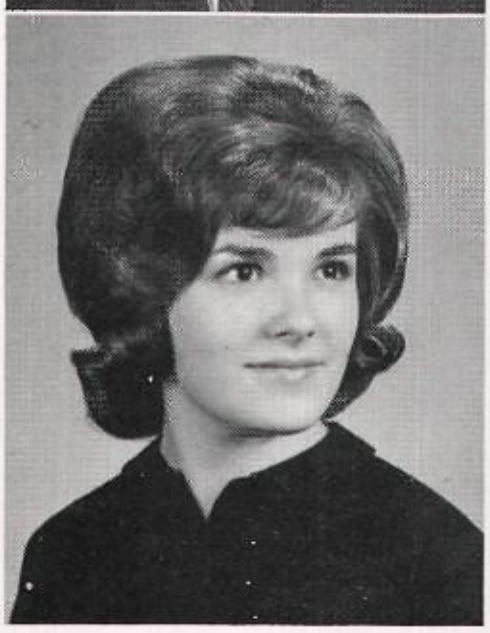
To enter the garden, everyone had to pass through this garden arch, as shown by Mae Kessell and Lyle Darnell.

Behind the fun there was work. Here members of the Junior Class decorate in order to make the prom the gala event that it was.



Short feet, long feet, narrow feet, and chubby feet, all dancing to the music of the Del Reys.

Dennis Shaw: president of the student body, junior class president, delegate to boys' state, named to all-district football team, NHS and Bulldog staff.



Lois Buck: a delegate to girls' state, Homecoming maid, Bulldog Herald staff, senior class council, best actress in the senior play.

It has become a tradition at SHS to place the names of several worthy seniors in the SHS Hall of Fame. Judged on their outstanding qualities and contributions to our school, they represent their class with dignity and honor.

The difficult task of choosing these worthy of this honor was given to a committee of teachers. Because the '63-'64 graduating class is a large one having many deserving members, the responsibility of the committee has been greatly increased. We would like to congratulate these few who have been given the honor of being in this year's SHS Hall of Fame.

Faculty Names '64 Members of Hall of Fame

Jo Anne Applegate: assistant editor of the Bulldog, cheerleader, delegate to girls' state, Homecoming maid, runner-up in '63 Miss SHS pageant.

For the Last Time, the Class of '64 Meets in its Entirety

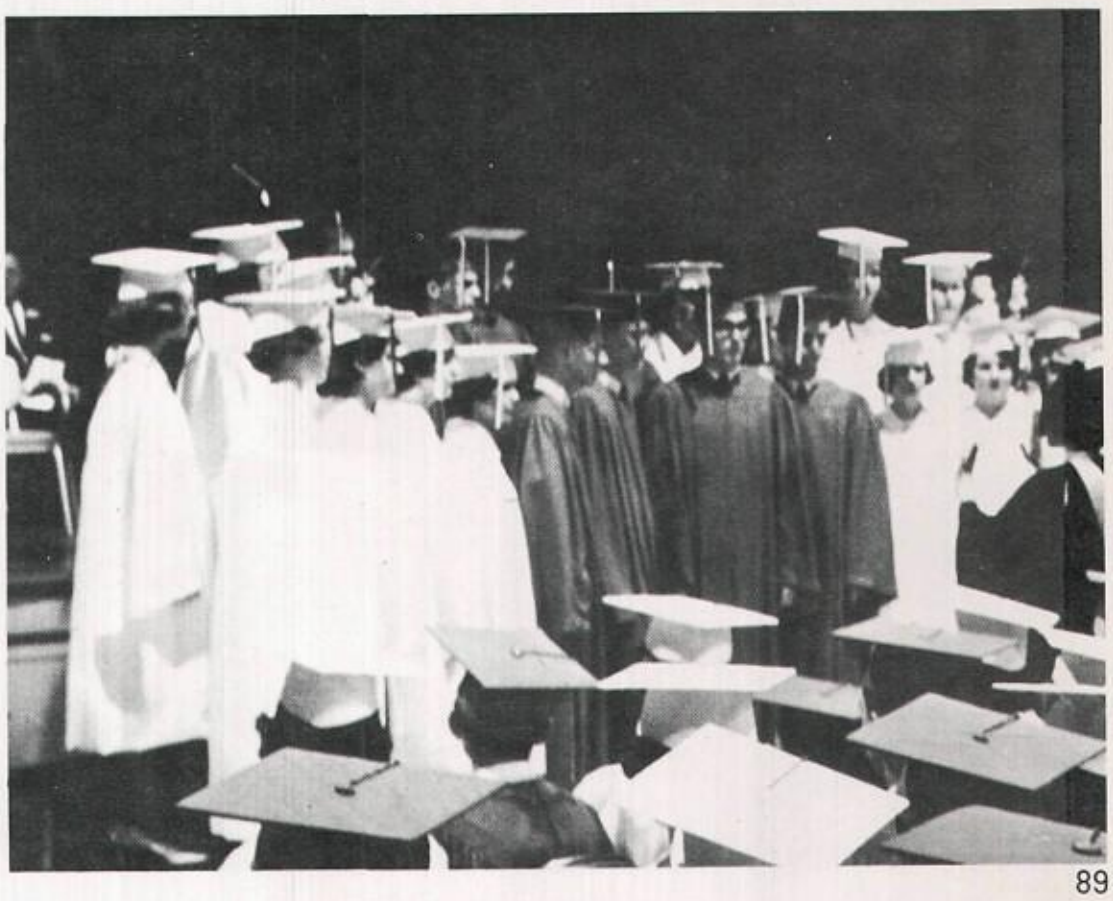
Nancy Lawson delivers her parting message to friends she may never see again.

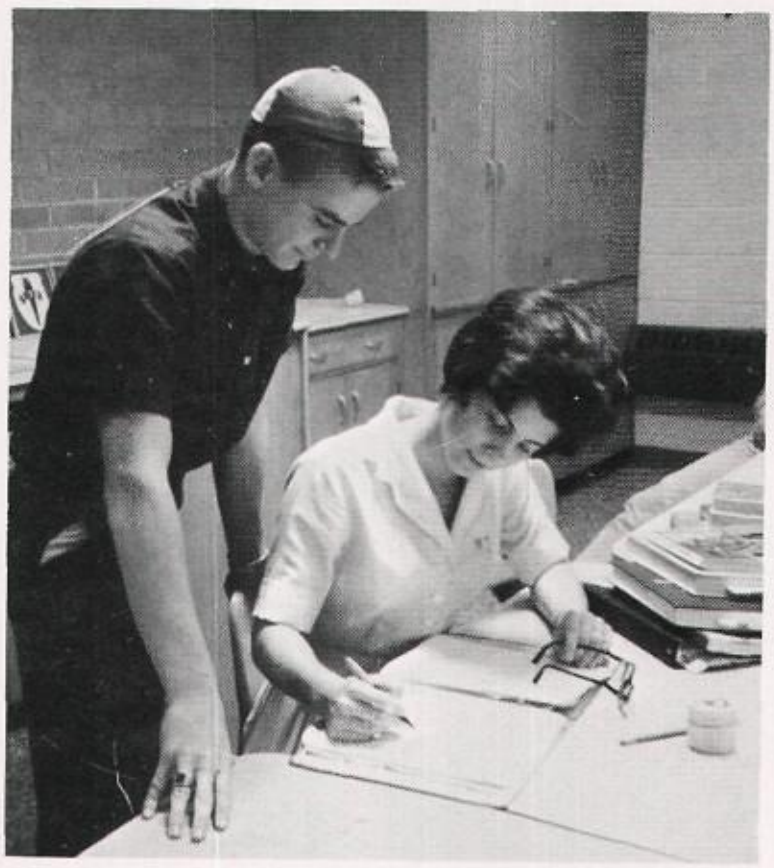
These seniors say farewell to SHS through the language of music.



Dennis Shaw conducts the meeting with Mr. Crowder's help.

The Student Council, a key organization to the school, is composed of students elected to represent their class in student-school problems, activities, and relationships. The council is a forum to which school problems and projects are brought to be discussed and handled. Aims of the council are encouraging good citizenship in the student body, training students to be followers as well as leaders, and developing high ideals of personal conduct.

To usher in the coming school year, members of the council attend Mt. Magazine Workshop where they receive leadership training and formulate plans for the year. During the year they sponsor Howdy Week, the magazine drive, and fun nights. They attend district council meetings and state conventions.



Donnie Gibson makes sure Dorothy Letsch's minutes meet his approval.

Included in the district are libraries from Washington, Benton, Madison, and Carol counties.

To enrich our own library, they visited other libraries in the district. They were also hosts to the Rogers librarians. By being organized into a club, the librarians have been better able to serve our school.

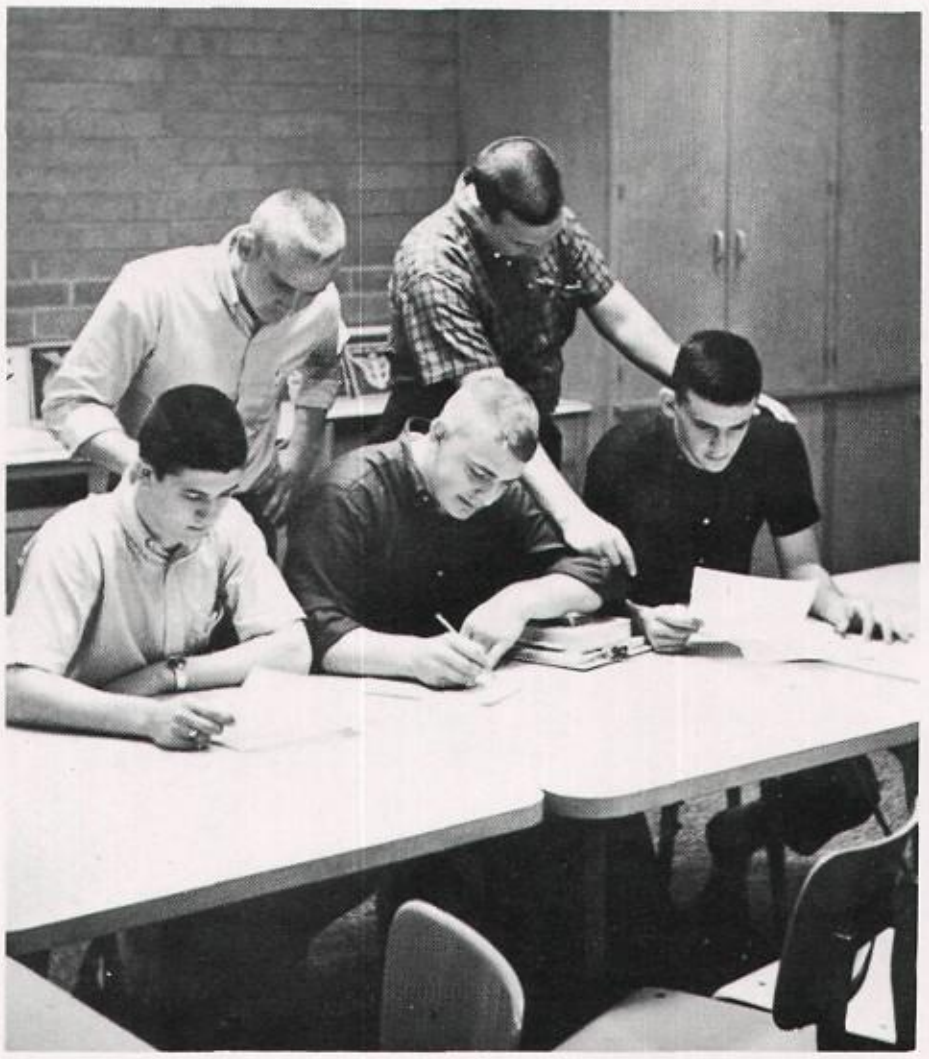
To become a member, a boy must win a letter in any phase of athletics. Membership is regarded as an honor, and the club is constantly seeking better ways to promote good inter-school relations and improve the qualilty of sportsmanship among the student body.

This year the "S" Club sold ribbons for football games, paid for the weight machine, sponsored the student-faculty basketball game, were hosts for the basketball tournament, and operated the concessions at the Rodeo of the Ozarks.



President, Doug Scott, vice-president Dennis Miller, secretary-treasurer Tommy Young, kennelmaster Charlie Smith, and sponsor Coach Crowder work diligently to complete plans for the Student-Faculty Basketball Game.

The society prepared a merit list and honor roll each nine weeks, encouraged scholarship and leadership by choosing a student of the month for his outstanding contributions or achievements, and established an academic honor program to recognize outstanding students at the Awards Day assembly. The society attended the state convention at Malvern.

Mrs. Ann Ingrum discusses a layout problem with Editor Ann Lichlyter and Jo Anne Applegate.

When school opened in September, the production of the '64 Bulldog was well underway. With the plans made by the editor, Ann Lichlyter, and assistant editor Jo Anne Applegate, and with the Conway Yearbook Workshop behind them, the Bulldog staff had the book organized.

The following months were busy and often hectic as each deadline day was met. There were layouts to be planned, copy to be written, hundreds of pictures to be taken, and most important, tempers to be kept in check. But in spite of all, each page was finished, and it is with pride we present this 1964 Bulldog.

Camera Club Members Learn

The purpose of the Camera Club, one of the newer organizations at SHS, is to give interested students an opportunity to learn more about photography. During the year professional photographers speak to the club, giving them pointers and ideas.

The big project this year for the Camera Club was a photography contest which each club member was required to enter.

The goal of the Future Homemakers of America is to encourage democracy in home and community life, to work for good home and family life for all, to promote international good will, and to provide wholesome individual and group recreation.

The projects for this year were selling mums for homecoming, serving at school banquets given by other organizations, and attending state and district conventions. At Christmas the FHA girls prepared baskets of toys and food for needy families. They ended the year with a mother-daughter banquet.

Off we go to the state convention at Little Rock. Let's hope we get back.

The purpose of Future Teachers is to encourage students to consider a profession in the field of teaching and to study the qualities and aptitudes related to successful teaching.

This year FTA sponsored Teacher Appreciation Week to create closer ties between teachers and students. An assembly was presented consisting of a skit depicting the "School of the Past" and "School of the Future." They also held a favorite teacher election and sponsored a valentine and candy sale.

The Key Club activities include maintaining the marquee at the Field House, sponsoring a talent assembly, presenting the flags at assemblies, and sponsoring a slave auction over KBRS.

This year they attended tournaments at Springfield, Joplin, the U. of A. and sponsored a tournament at SHS. They debated 38 schools from four states, winning 39 debates out of 86.

Vocal Music Groups Entertain SHS

This year's vocal music department is under the direction of Mrs. Arlene DeVries. It consists of five groups, the Choralettes, the Esquires, the trio, the quartet, and the sextet.

These groups perform for the PTA and various civic organizations. Each year the combined groups give a Christmas and Spring concert. The department's main project at the present is earning money for new robes.

Dennis Shaw—44, scrambles with Fayetteville player for a fumble.

Fall Brings Football as its First

In the opening game of the 1963 season, the Bulldogs played to a scoreless deadlock with the Russellville Crimson Cyclones. The real show for the night was the defenses of both squads. Probably the biggest gap in the Bulldog offensive attack was the lack of blockers.

On the next Friday night it looked as though this season would be a repeat of last year's. The Bulldogs failed to show much of anything in the way of speed or offensive blocking and didn't do too much to halt the charges of the swift Bentonville Tigers. The biggest part of the night saw the Tigers move the ball from one end of the field to the other, and Johnny Kever keeping Bentonville back with his punting. But for the goal line stands led by Dana Page and Jim Evans, the score might have been worse than the 8-0 at the final whistle.

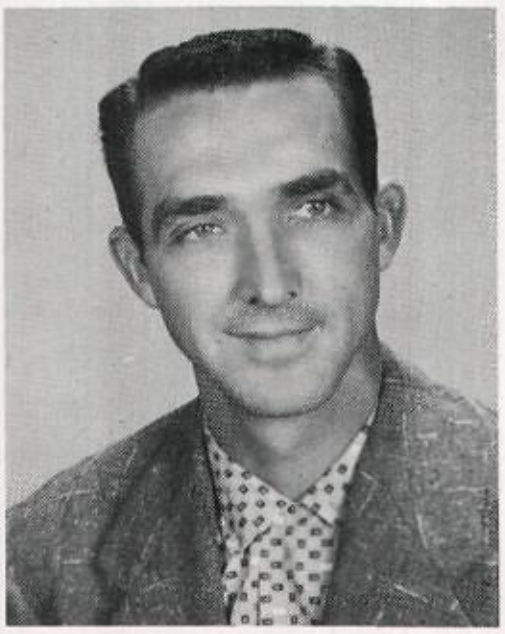
Assistant Coach:
Bill Crowder



In the first home game, Coach Rex Yerby's men blasted the Mountain Home Bombers 33-6. Led by halfback Stan Ludwig, the Bulldog runners accounted for 258 yards on the ground in a tremendous offensive display.

The victory marked a fine team effort that makes heroes hard to single out. Aside from the fine running of Charles Smith and Ludwig, the linemen, time after time, jumped all over Bomber backs before they had time to move. Smith again produced a steady passing attack as he completed four of eight, good for 37 yards.

Bulldogs Win Two — Tie One

Showing the same overpowering running game that was displayed the previous week, the Bulldogs completely outclassed the Harrison Goblins in gaining their second victory 39-7. As in the first victory, it was a team effort. Ludwig led the ground game with 67 yards in 13 carries, and Dennis Miller accounted for 64 on 10 trips. Bulldog punter Kever booted twice for a total of 91 yards.

Mammoth John Evans, 220 pound block-buster fullback, plowed his way in the next game for some 123 yards on the ground and scored two touchdowns as the Bulldogs bounced the Van Buren Pointer 21-6 in Van Buren's Blakemore Stadium. The Bulldog rushing corps accounted for 220 yards while the passing game was stymied with a net yardage of minus one on one completion for five attempts. Following Evans in the rushing department was Ludwig with 45 yards on 10 carries, Miller with 28 on seven, and Smith with 24 on 10 carries.

In the "Battle of the Bulldogs," Springdale had a 13-6 lead going into the final period, but when the local Bulldogs failed to move the ball from their own 10 yard line, the Fayetteville squad took advantage of the situations and marched the ball 40 yards for the score to tie the game. The game itself was just what most had expected—a real dog-fight from the start to the finish. Both teams launched hard running attacks, and both showed the two finest defenses in the region. Ludwig led the Bulldog offense with 68 yards on 18 carries with Miller, Smith and Evans adding yards. Defensive stand-outs were Dub Ray, Jim Hollingsworth, Larry McGlocklin, Ron Purdum, Don Eldridge, Dana Page, Emil Kilpatrick, Guy Bariola, Tommy Young, Johnny Kever, and Jack Harrison.

When the Bulldogs journeyed to Siloam Springs powerful John Evans revived a sputtering Springdale offense with his tremendous charges and led his team to a 27-7 victory over the Panthers.

The Bulldogs, caught by surprise by the quick Panthers in the first quarter in which Siloam controlled the ball and held the Bulldogs to four plays in the first eight minutes, came to life in the last three periods to move the ball at will as quarterback Charles Smith mixed his plays around the plunges of Evans. For the night, the Red and White massed 329 yards on the ground to 100 for the Panthers.

The Bulldogs were held to a 7-7 tie by a tough Rogers defense to kill their chances for a share in the Region IAA championship.

Rogers marked up the first score of the night after a drive capped by a 34 yard pass to paydirt. The point after touchdown was good giving them a 7-0 lead. John Evans got the only tally for the Bulldogs after a 69 yard drive. Steve Walters kicked the point after to tie the score 7-7. The game ended without any other serious scoring threats. Springdale totaled 179 yards offensively as compared to 189 by Rogers.

Springdale took second place in Region 1AA with a lack-luster 13-0 win over Subiaco. John Evans bulled over for an early first period touchdown. The attempt at the point after failed. The second score came late in the third quarter on a short pass from Smith to Marvin Dandy. The Bulldogs racked up a total offense of 181 yards against 139 for Subiaco.

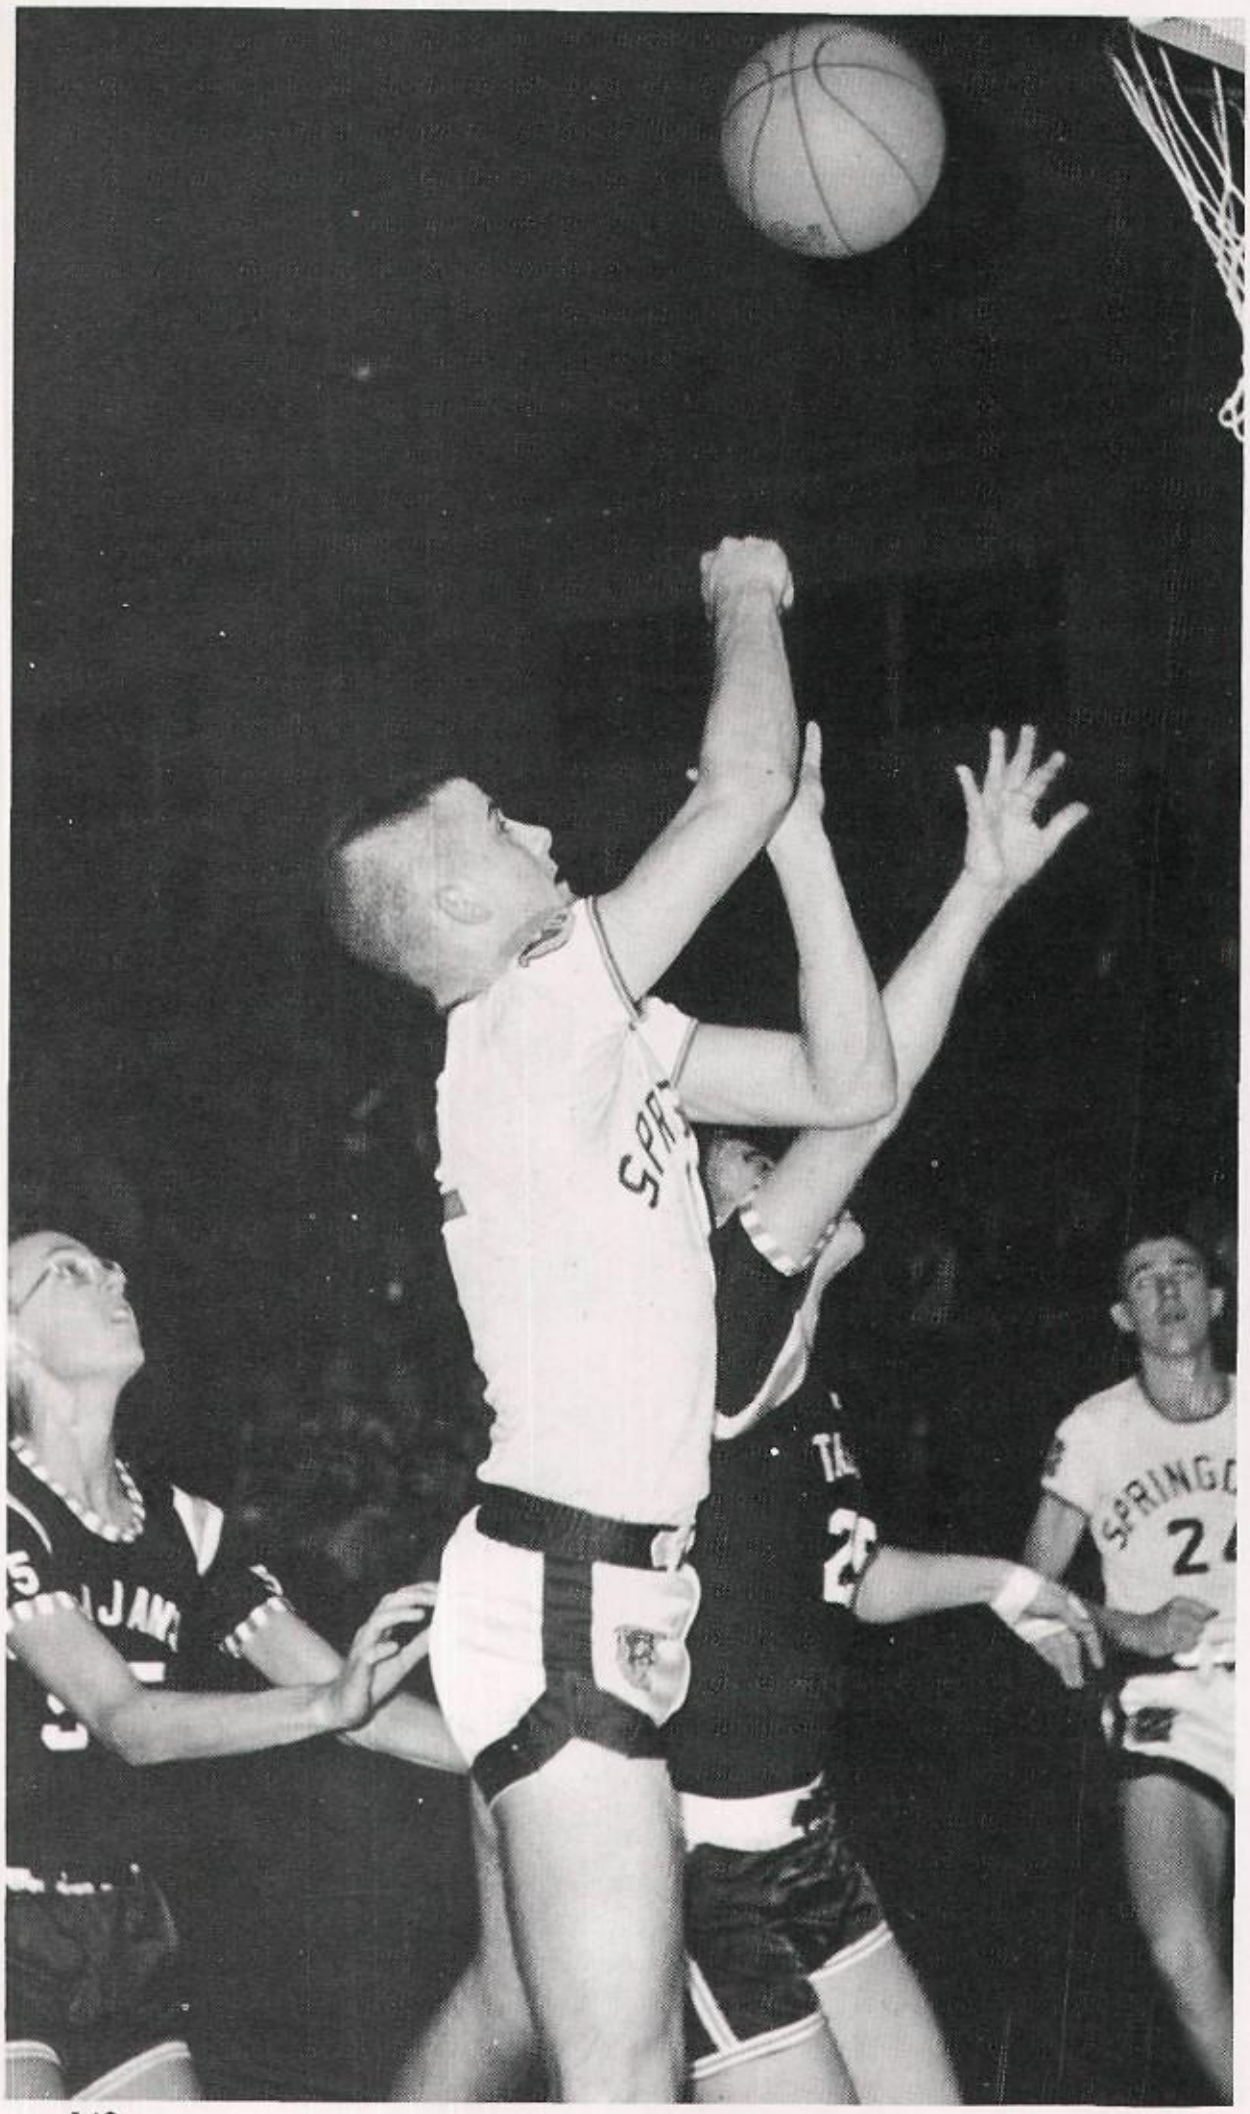
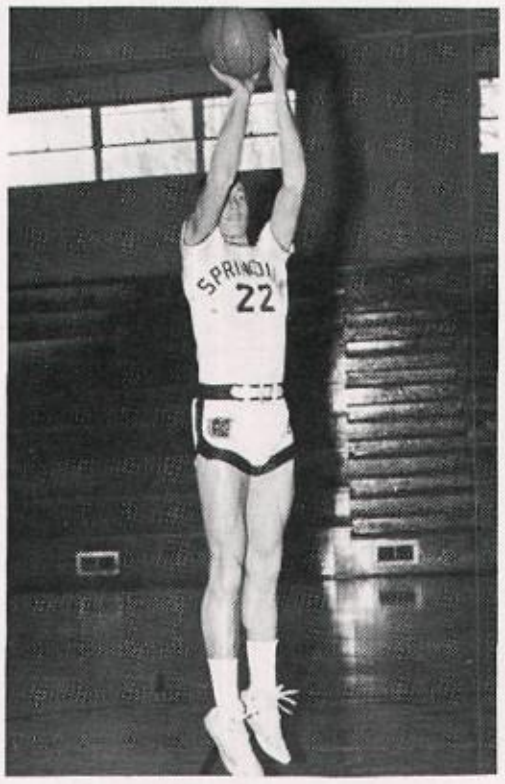
The Winter Season Introduces Basketball

Smith goes up for two points against Subiaco.



Larry White—Junior

Guy Bariola —Junior



Jim Long—Junior

The Bulldogs opened their 63-64 season on a disappointing note by dropping a close one to Bentonville, 37-33.

In their second game they took Siloam Springs by a score of 46-39, with Kever scoring 14 points.

In the next go-round, the Bulldogs were blasted by Fayetteville, 52-59, followed by a 43-35 loss to Alma.

In the fifth game of the season, the Bulldogs ended up on the wrong end of a 49-45 thriller, and then followed "true-to-form" by dropping a close battle to Harrison 46-41.

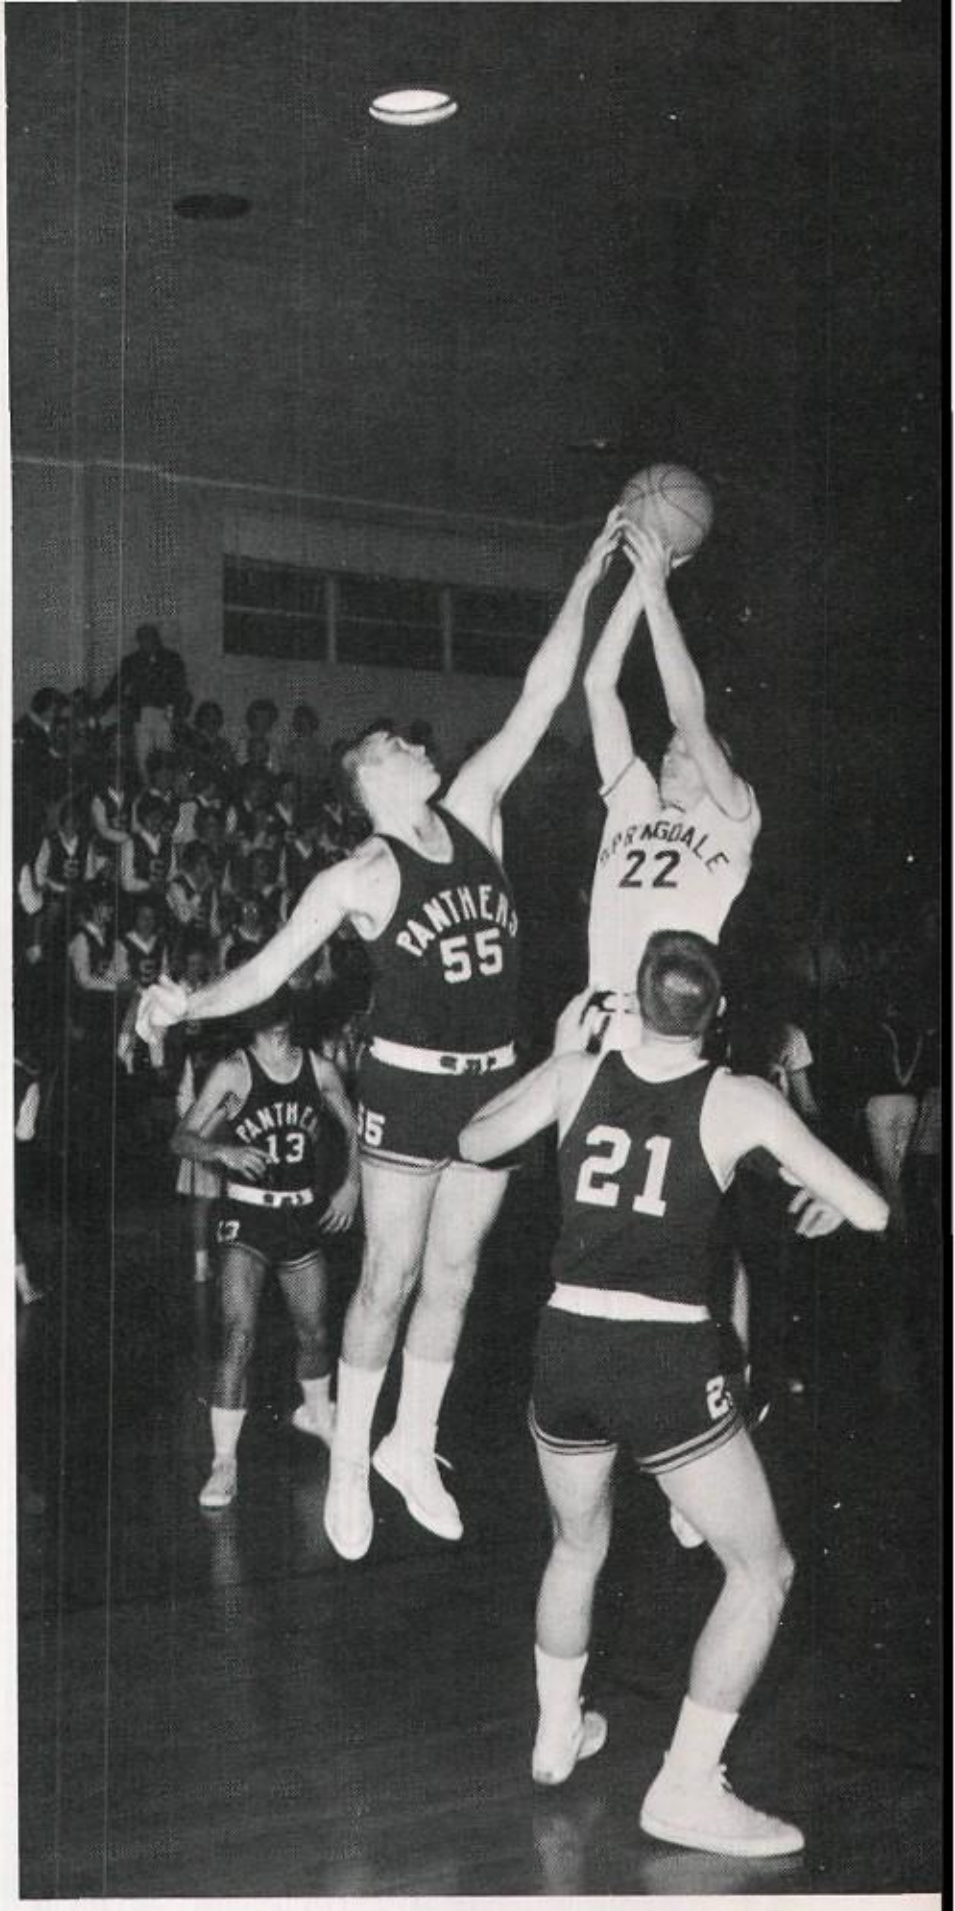
The Bulldogs finally broke their losing streak by winning one of the hardest fought games of the season, 48-47, over Van Buren.

Harrison came out on top of the Bulldogs for the second time this year with a 61-37 rout, and Valley Springs won their 30th straight game by bumping off the Bulldogs 44-29.

Once again the "Dogs" pulled out of a long losing streak by downing Rogers 32-30 with a last second basket by Dandy. This momentary success was short-lived as once again the Bulldogs were romped 58-30 by Fayetteville, and then they failed to come up with a last minute rally as they dropped number 13 of the season 40-36 to Van Buren.

In the next game Springdale bumped Bentonville 47-29, with Smith scoring 16 points as high man of the evening, but the next go-round the "Dogs" managed to foul themselves to a 67-50 defeat by Siloam Springs, but followed with Smith scoring 24 points to lead Springdale to a 67-62 thriller over Subiaco.

Valley Springs made the Bulldogs their 38th straight victim with 55-44 victory and finally the Bulldogs went down under a high scoring attack by Rogers 34-57.



Bariola is checked as he jumps and shoots.

Bariola is checked as Wolfe (24) and Ludwig (40) move in for rebound.

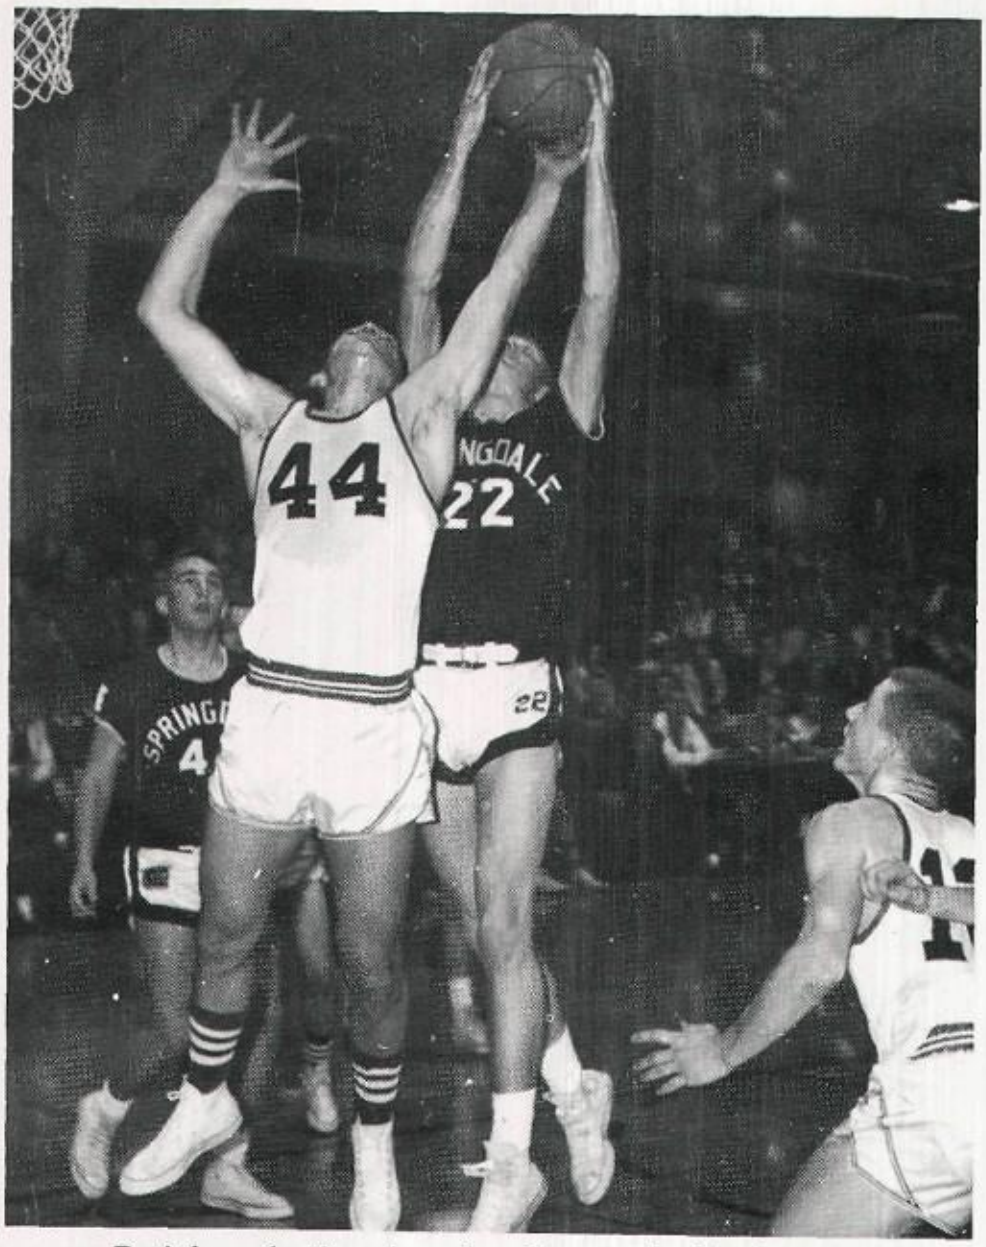
Bariola, Kever, and Dandy "smother" a Trojan player in a mad scramble.



Bariola grabs the rebound as Evans waits his chance.

Van Buren Captures 37th Invitational Tournament

The 37th Annual Northwest Arkansas Invitational Tournament ended with wins by Gentry, Springdale, and Van Buren. Gentry mopped up Mountainburg, 70-21; Springdale trounced Siloam Springs, 53-36; and Van Buren held off Alma, 48-42.

In the second night of first round games, Cedarville, Lincoln, and Mulberry scored victories. Cedarville had to battle from behind to stop Prairie Grove in a thrilling 51-50 battle. In other action Lincoln routed Gravette, 61-33; and Mulberry disposed of Rogers 70-52.

Gentry, Van Buren, Cedarville, and Mulberry advanced into the semi-finals by downing Fort Smith Southside, Bentonville, Lincoln, and Springdale respectively. Van Buren then defeated Mulberry and Cedarville took Gentry to enter the finals.

In the final game of the tournament, Van Buren defeated Cedarville in a heart-stopping 43-40 battle to win the tournament for the second year in a row.

"In the Spring, a Young Man's Fancy Turns..." to Track

Track, as a sport in Northwest Arkansas, is difficult for both coaches and participants. None of the schools have indoor tracks and since spring in this part of the country is most uncertain, many practice sessions must take place under adverse conditions or not at all.

Springdale, in the middle of a building program, has these problems, plus the fact that they have no track. In spite of this, we participated in six meets this year and totaled points each time. The most successful events entered were the mile relay, run by David Evans, Scotty Douthit, Doug Scott, and Carlos Treat, and John Evan's record mark of 50-1/2 feet in the shot put, along with a 139-5 discus throw.

Schools against whom Springdale competed were Fort Smith, Fayetteville, Harrison, Paris, Gentry, Bentonville, Siloam Springs, Subiaco, Van Buren, and Clarksville.

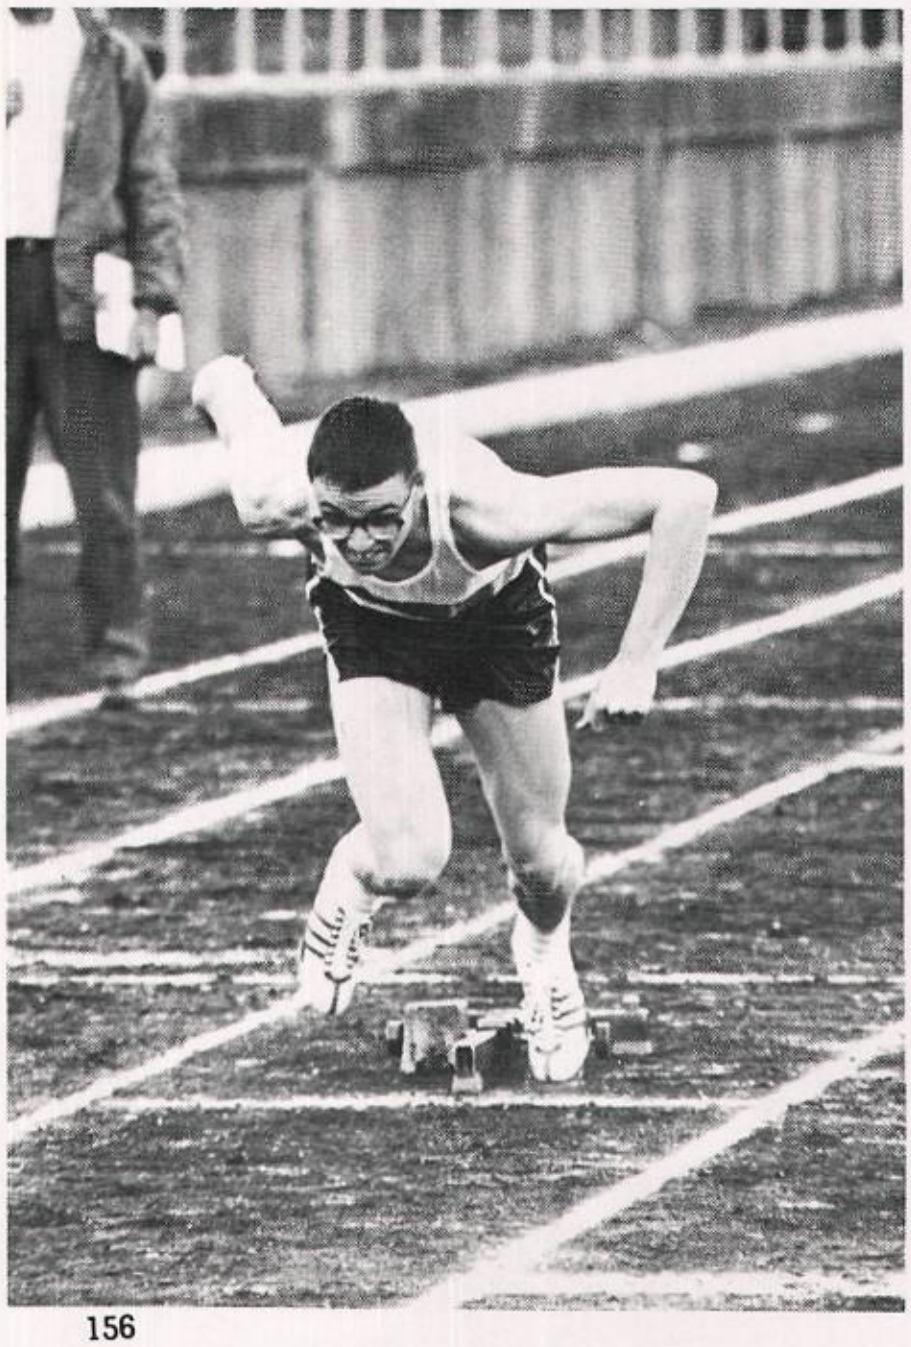
Jeff Sanders skims the hurdles in the Arkansas High School Relays.

Carlos Treat, Springdale's "ace" sprinter, charges out of the blocks.



The Bulldogs' number one half-miler, John Ingrum, finishes with a strong burst of speed at district meet.

Scotty Douthit, anchor man on the mile relay team, is edged by Harrison's Bige Wray.

David Evans passes the baton to Carlos Treat on the mile relay at the district meet.

Douthit pulls hard for the tape in the 880 yard relay at Fayetteville.

JUNIOR HIGH

New Junior High Principal for West Junior High, Michael Zotti, had the difficult job of finding more rooms and more teachers for the constantly expanding enrollment.

Mrs. Helen Stamps and Mrs. Nellie Griggs are invaluable as registrars and the "grease that keeps the wheels running."

The smiling face and helpfulness of Mrs. Helen Stamps, registrar, make the office a pleasant place for students and teachers.

Mr. Michael Zotti relaxes for a few minutes before resuming the many tasks connected with Principal of Junior High.

Qualified Leaders

Teaching young citizens to appreciate democracy is the satisfying task of Mr. John Stamps, civic teacher and assistant principal.

One of Mrs. Nellie Grigg's daily tasks is taking telephone calls from parents.

Mrs. Martha Lankford combines her talents in music and English to bring appreciation of both subjects to students.

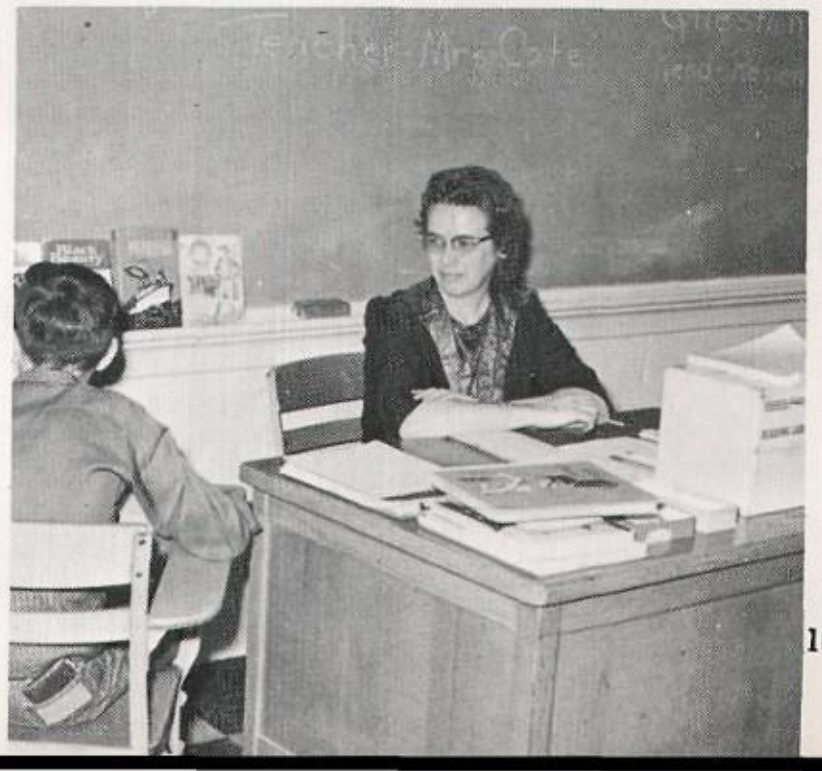
Mrs. Miriam Gentry smiles as she gives her class its English assignment.

Mrs. Ione Singletary finds the blackboard helpful in teaching sentence structure to her English classes.

Head Junior High Schools

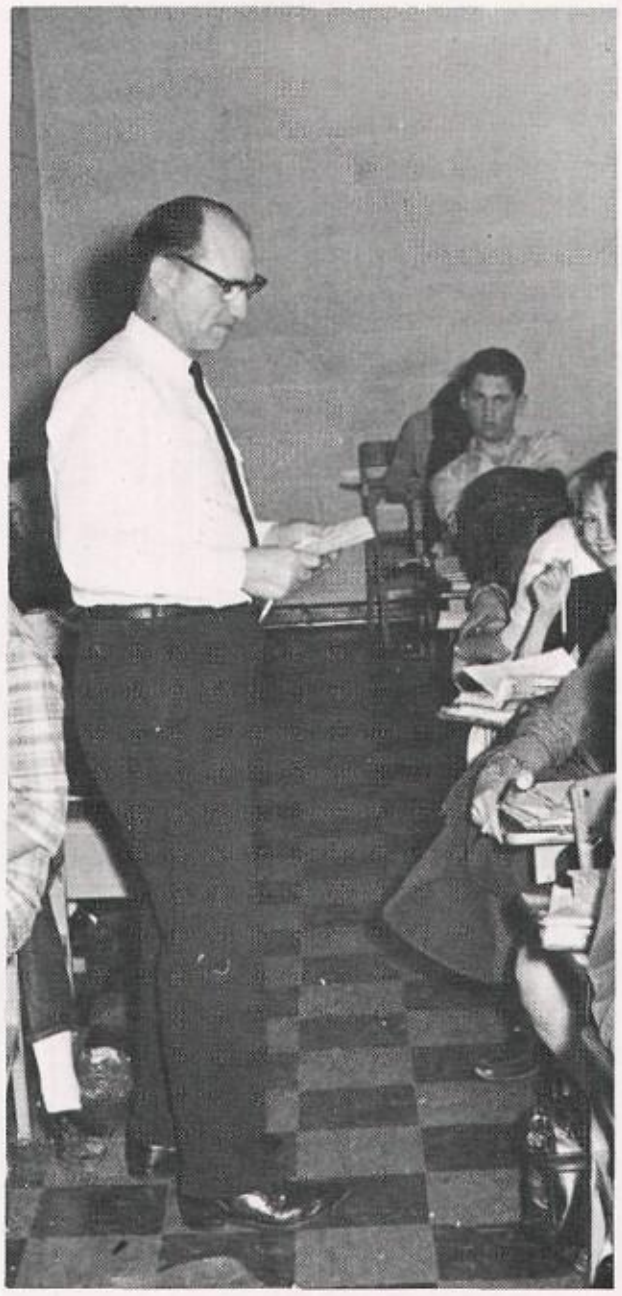
The lounge provides a pleasant place for teachers, such as Mrs. Jewell McCartney, ninth grade English teacher, to grade papers, plan assignments or just rest a few minutes before class.

Mrs. Pearl Cate helps one of her students choose a book to read. Mrs. Cate teaches eighth grade English as well as reading.



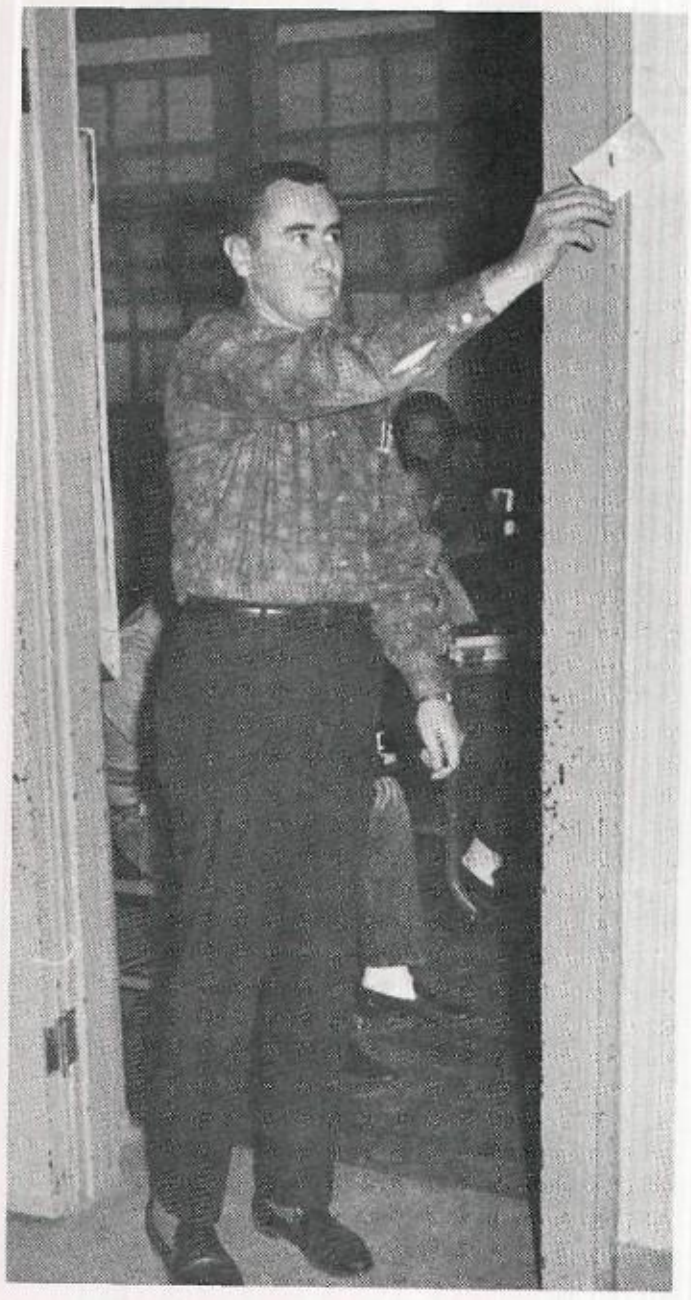
Mrs. Kay Switzer's math students practice problems on the board with the aid of her helpful criticism.

Mrs. Marion Straight explains a tricky algebra problem to one of her classes.

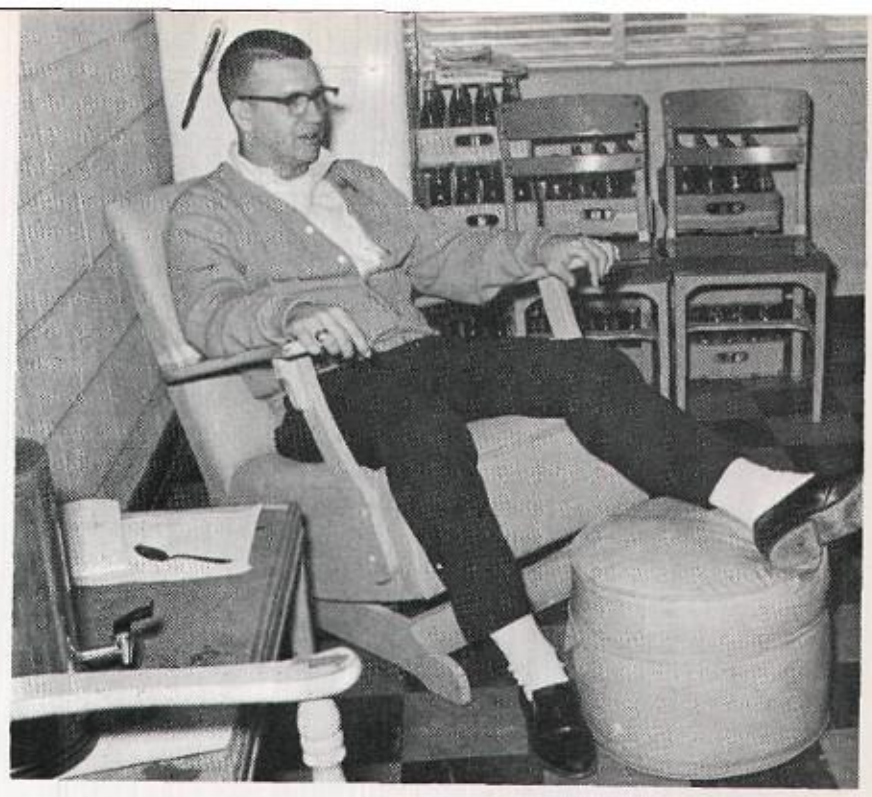


Mr. Albert Todd proves to his students that general math can be fun.

Mrs. Betty Womack is always glad to help her eighth grade students with those difficult math problems.



The students of Mr. Jack Vanhook's social studies classes are rarely absent because they don't want to miss the interesting class discussions.



Is Coach Bobby Johnson guarding the Coca Cola supply when he should be coaching the football boys?

Mrs. Judy Rhodes illustrates a battle to her attentive sociai studies students.

Mrs. Anne Potter listens to the opinion of one of her social studies students.

Mrs. Linda Rutledge tells a joke about one of her seventh grade students as Mrs. Yeargen counters with an experience that happened in her social studies class.

Mrs. Ruth Crowder explains how exact measurement is essential for correct clothing construction in home economics.

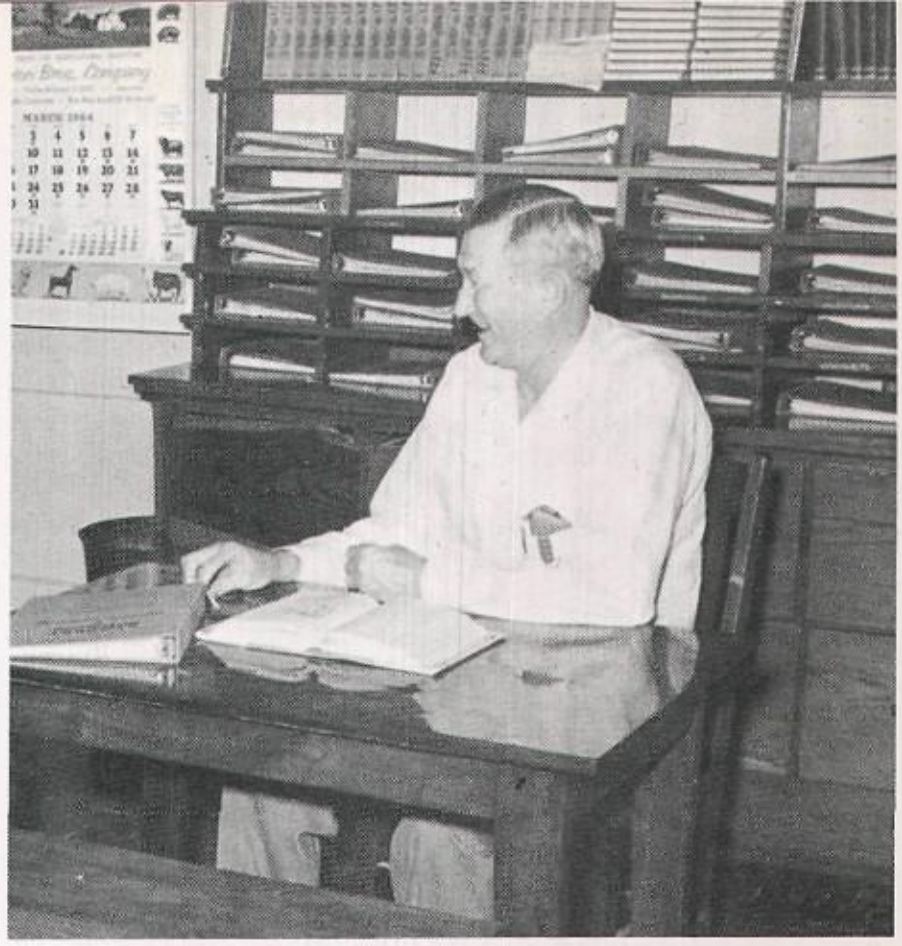
After her daily exercises in physical education, Mrs. Willie Taylor teaches classes in health.

Mr. Claude Johnson prepares for a discussion in his eighth and ninth grade science classes.

Teaching science and girls' physical education, offers many interesting experiences for Mrs. Marie Lookingbill.

Mr. Jasper Combs aids one of his science students as he attempts to answer questions in an assignment.

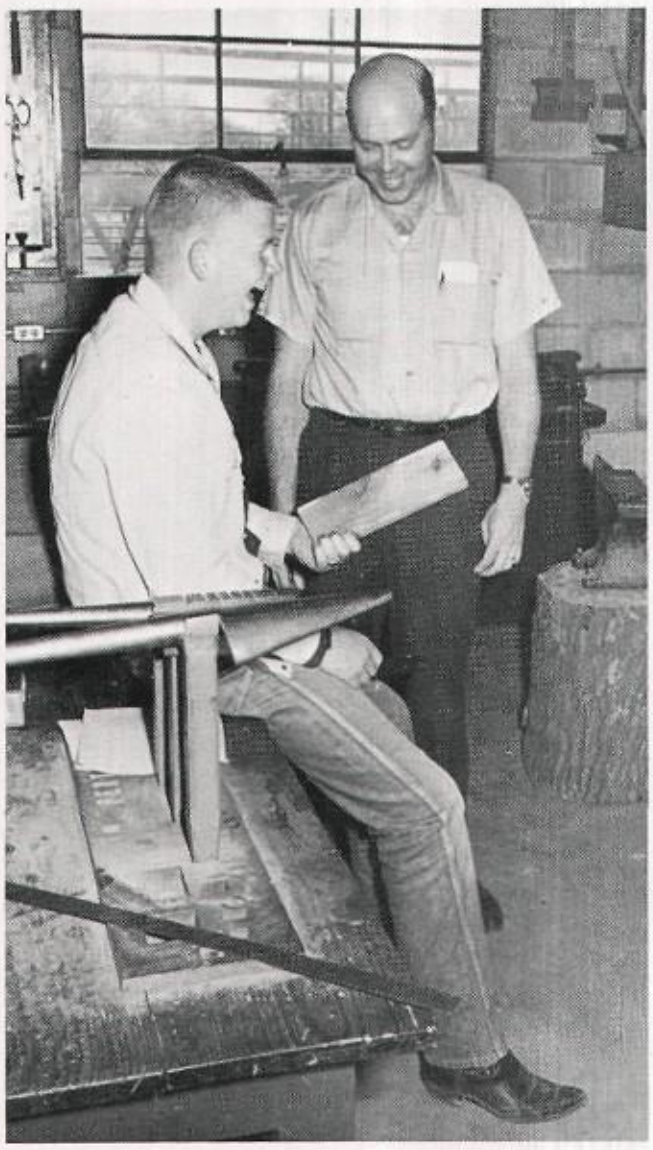
Band director, Mr. Don Hallum, continues to beat the rhythm as he rests.



Mr. P. H. Singletary brings to life many interesting things through his teaching of agriculture.

Sometimes it's hard to find Mrs. Anne Hoyt because of the many books in her library.

Mr. Edward Mauldin seems to enjoy developing a student's creativity through industrial arts.



Mrs. Nancy Onelio makes the rounds as she checks her typing students' progress.

Teachers must constantly be aware of their students' progress. Here Miss Marie Narisi checks for students who might need special help in their science or math.

Mrs. Phyllis Terhune instructs her seventh grade class while a few students work problems on the board.

Mrs. Johnie Searan sacrifices some of her time to help solve the special English problems of her students.

Mrs. Nora Bee Linglebach begins another challenging day as Junior High Counselor.

Students and teachers alike find the end of six weeks a busy time. Here Mrs. Gail Eason totals the grades of her seventh grade class.

Seventh grade students of Mrs. Nancy Sunderman find early in the year that her class is the highlight of their day.

Mrs. Sandra Cavaneau charts the progress that her seventh grade students are making through their grades.

Mrs. Helen Clements listens intently as one of her students reads an assignment for her approval.

Miss Ann Rainwater, seventh grade teacher, finds that spelling bees enrich students' vocabularies while helping them gain poise before the class.

Mrs. Lavaughn Graham prepares for her class by putting a few instructions on the board to help her students with their math.

Long after her students have gone home, Mrs. Germaine Williams remains to plan the next day's work in English and geography.

All classes in Junior High sooner or later wind up in study hall.

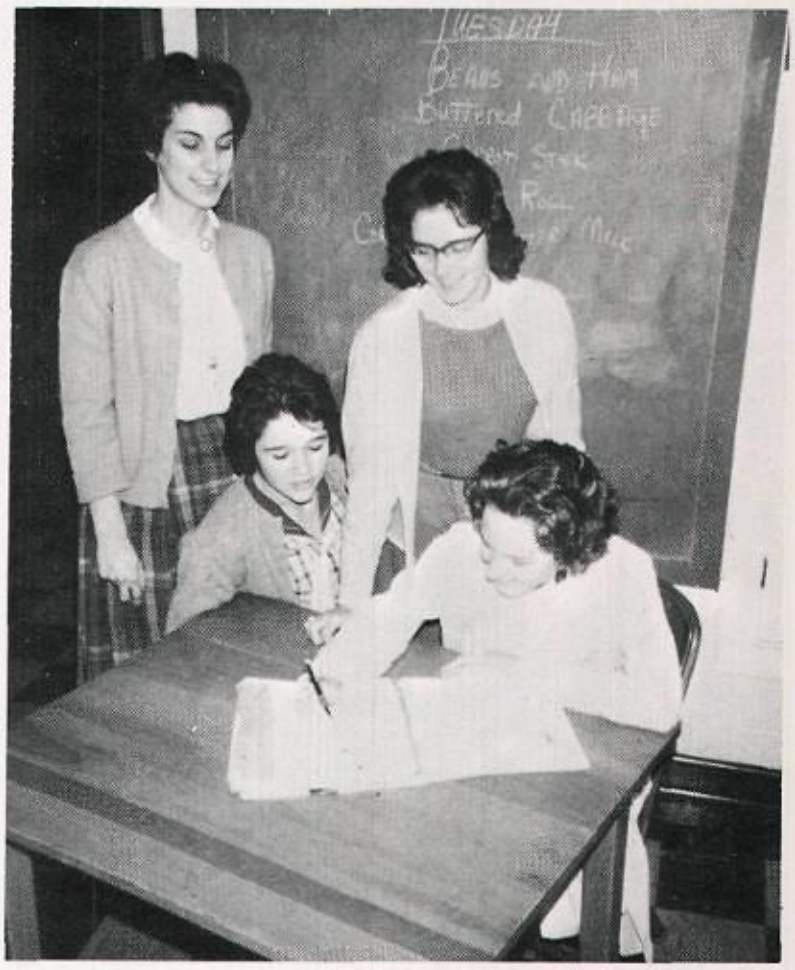
Cheerleaders and Pep Club Promote Jr. High Spirit

Candidates for cheerleaders try out each spring before the student body. Two cheerleaders are chosen from each class. The girls cheer at all home games and occasionally accompany the Bullpups to out-of-town games.

For the past two years there was no active pep club in Junior High. It soon became apparent that the cheerleaders alone could not furnish all the pep that was needed, so the Pep Club was again organized to cheer the Bullpups through a successful football and basketball season.



Sponsor, Mrs. Rhodes, and Puppet captains, Sharon Hilburn and Carolyn Farmer, gloat as Sharon Helf totals entire membership of the Junior High Pep Club.

The newly organized Junior High Pep Club demonstrates their enthusiasm which helped cheer the Bullpups to a successful football and basketball season.

Junior High Student Council Plans Talent Show

The goals of the Junior High Student Council are good leadership, sportsmanship, and increased student participation in school activities. It promotes school spirit and tries to develop a closer relationship between teacher and student.

This year the Council sponsored a talent show, a pennant sale, and a candy sale. Other money-making projects were selling school supplies through the office and selling paperback books.

Each year the Council gives the Teacher's Tea to show their appreciation to the teaching staff.

Secretary Morti Newman, Vice-President Pam Gibson, Sponsor Mrs. Ione Singletary, President David Reese, and Treasurer Mike Mohney discuss plans for talent show.

Mrs. Stamps happily smiles as she reports about sales of school supplies to Student Council members Toni Neff, Gary Comstock, and John Womack.

NJHS Sets High Standards

Basic requirements for Junior Honor Society membership are character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The society tries to stimulate these qualities in all SJHS students.

The Council has charge of the daily raising of the flag and publishes an honor roll each nine weeks. This year the council gave an initiation banquet at Christmas and attended the state NJHS convention in Little Rock, where they were in charge of registration.

DRUM MAJORETTE Janet Crain shows why she's "the leader of the band."

Majorettes Appear in the Spotlight

MAJORETTES Vicki Neil, Kathy Lankford, Brenda Parsons, and Pam Gibson have completed a well-executed baton routine.

The marching Bullpups band presented nine football shows during the fall season. The band placed thirty-five members in the Junior High All-Region Band. Eight of these made first chair, first band. The junior band department placed twenty first divisions in solos and ensembles at the Regional Band Festival.

The band attended the state festival in Hot Springs with thirty-five ensembles entered in competition. During the year the band presented three concerts.

Much of the precision and "snappy" appearance of the band is due to the leadership of the majorettes.

Mrs. Lankford helps accompanist, Barbara Webb, with music for the group's concert.

Vocal Music Presents Christmas and Spring Concerts

The ninth grade music program is designed to provide the students with a varied repertoire of vocal selections.

Music of representative composers from all periods of music history is read and sung with appropriate background materials given to make the music meaningful.

This year the chorus was composed of fourteen girls and five boys. Two Christmas concerts, one for the public and one for the student body, were given. Excerpts from the concerts were given over KBRS. A final concert was presented this spring.

The accompanist for the year was Barbara Webb.

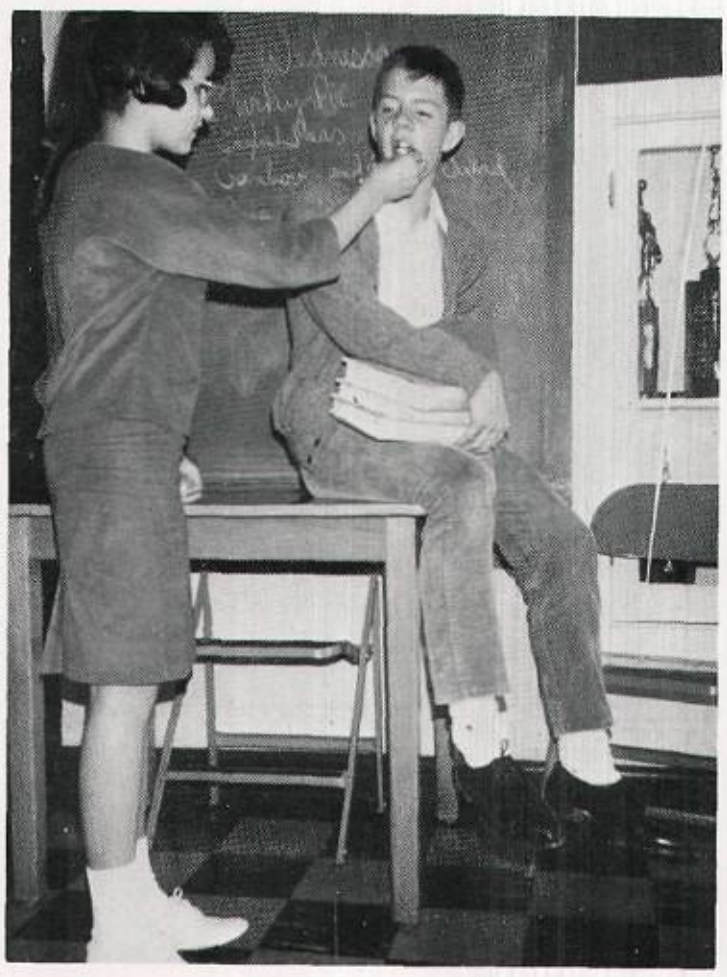
Prince and Princess Candidates Provide Competition

Ninth grade candidates, Pam Gibson and Paul Brewer enjoy flirting over the telephone as their pastime.



Eighth grade candidate, Janice Mason always has bubble gum to give to good looking boys like John Womack.

Seventh grade candidate, Connie Smith knows that being interested in sports will make her popular with boys, Ricky Collins for instance.

Bullpups Take 21–0 Victory

Burba lowers his head and hits hard for the first down.

The Bullpups started their '63 season on a disappointing note as they were thumped by Van Buren 26-6. The only time Springdale got on the score board was on a 6 yard pass from hightower to Brewer.

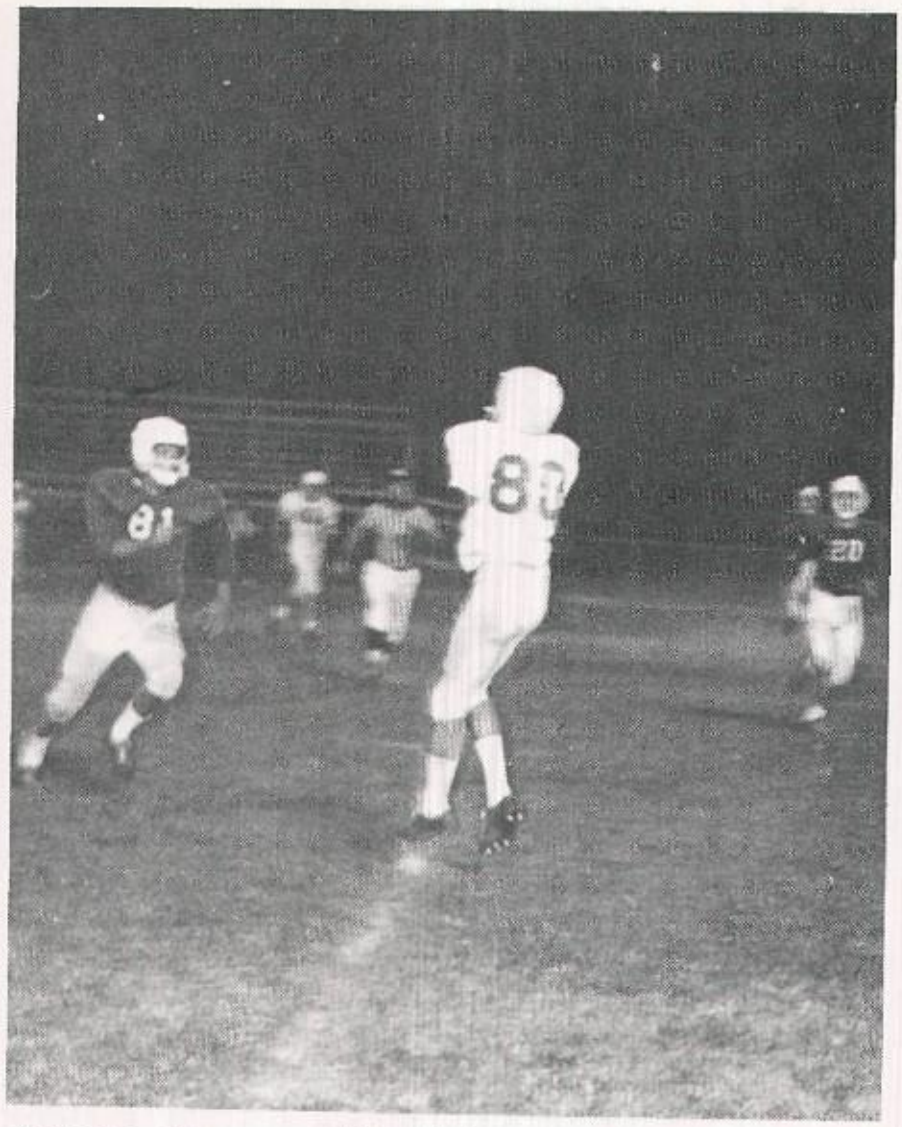
Once again the Bullpups came up low man as Darby of Fort Smith edged them 6-0. Both teams showed a really good defense to make it a real thriller.

The "Pups" came up with their first win of the season as they rolled over Siloam Springs 21-0.

The Bullpups tromped Rogers 26-7 as evened up their record at 2-2.

In the fifth game of the season the Pups squeezed by Harrison in a 13-12 heart-stopper. This was the first loss of Harrison and it moved the "Pups" percentage past the 500 mark.

Burba snags a pass down the middle for a good pair.



Bullpups show a sparkling defense as they throw Siloam for a twelve yard loss.

An unidentified Bullpup hits around the end for a good gain.

Brewer (80) makes a nice catch for long yardage.

Size and strength was evident as the Bullpups wiped out Hillcrest 34-7. This game represented the 4th win of the year.

The Bullpups were still going strong as they romped to a 32-0 win over Bentonville. This brought them a 5-2 record and a shot at the championship against Woodland.

The Pups had to be satisfied as runners-up in the conference as they bowed to Woodland 20-13. This game brought their season to a close with a 5-3 record.

Burba hits a jump shot against Rogers as Brewer (32) looks for the rebound.

The Bullpups ended their highly successful season this year with a 15-2 record (not counting tournament play).

In a not-so-hotly contested battle against Hillcrest of Fayetteville, Brewer led the Bullpups to a 33-18 victory by accounting for fifteen points.

A little later in the season, the Bullpups managed to edge the Siloam Springs Panthers 26-20 behind a strong defensive display. Burba led the "Pups" with eleven points on a night when baskets were few and far between. This game ran their regular season record to 14-1.

The Bullpups dropped a heartbreaker to Valley Springs 38-36 as Paul Brewer failed to come up with a last second goal. Burba led the scoring for Springdale with thirteen points and Brewer came up with ten. This left the Bullpups with a 14-2 record going into the final game of the year.

In the season closer, the "Pups" downed Rogers 43-30 behind a twenty point performance by Burba. This ended the Bullpups regular season schedule with a 15-2 record.

The year 1963-64 is over—the tests, the dances, the work and the play of it are only memories. The crowd has gone home, but the lights are still burning. Someone remains behind the scene to finish the old or to start the coming year. Bright lights peer from the lonely building. Night looks on in silence.
